THE TWO COUSINS

Once upon a time, in the beautiful kingdom of Hastinapura, there lived two groups of royal cousins: the Pandavas and the Kauravas. The Pandavas were five brave and kind brothers, while the Kauravas were a hundred strong and proud brothers.

GROWING UP TOGETHER

The Pandavas and Kauravas grew up together in the palace, learning about the ways of kings and warriors. They played, studied, and trained in archery, sword fighting, and riding horses.

THE JEALOUSY GROWS

As they grew older, the Kauravas, led by their eldest brother Duryodhana, became jealous of the Pandavas. They wanted to rule the kingdom alone and did not want to share it with their cousins.

Helping kids grow day and night.
Love and wisdom, pure and true,
In every step, they shine anew.

THE GREAT WAR

The jealousy and disagreements led to a big war called the Mahabharata. The two families gathered their armies on the battlefield of Kurukshetra, ready to fight for the kingdom.

ARJUNA'S DOUBT

Arjuna, one of the Pandava brothers, was a great warrior. But when he saw his family and friends on the other side, he felt very sad and confused. He did not want to fight against them. He put down his bow and said, "I cannot do this."

KRISHNA'S HELP

Krishna, Arjuna's charioteer and a wise guide, saw Arjuna's distress. He decided to help Arjuna understand his duty and the true meaning of life.

THE ETERNAL SOUL

Krishna explained that every person has a soul that is eternal. This soul never dies but moves from one body to another, like changing clothes. This means there is no real end to life.

DOING YOUR DUTY

Krishna told Arjuna that everyone has duties in life, and it is important to do them without thinking about the results. By doing our duties well, we help make the world a better place.

As a warrior, Arjuna's duty was to protect the kingdom and fight for justice.

STAYING CALM

Krishna said that it is important to stay calm and focused while doing our duties. If we keep our mind on doing the right thing, we will find peace and happiness.

DEVOTION TO GOD

Krishna also told Arjuna that the best way to live is to dedicate all our actions to God. By doing this, we stay connected to a higher purpose and find strength and peace within ourselves.

ARJUNA'S COURAGE

After listening to Krishna's teachings, Arjuna felt much better. He understood that he must fight to protect what is right and fulfill his duty. With courage, Arjuna picked up his bow and arrows.
