Ross School of Business

701 Tappan St, Ann Arbor, MI 48109

Members of the Ross School of Business' Consortium community are partnering with the Office of Admissions to offer a diversity recruitment event that gives prospective fulltime MBA students the opportunity to experience Ross "UpClose."

At Ross we believe that a broad-based, diverse community is essential to the character of our School, to the education and leadership development of our students, and to the contribution we make to business and society through our graduates. UpClose is an integral part of our continuing efforts to enroll a diverse student body.

Historically the UpClose weekend was designed to attract talented African American, Hispanic American, and Native American applicants to the Ross MBA program. We've expanded this event to include all prospective students, of any race or ethnicity, who have an interest in improving the visibility of underrepresented students in business schools and in management.

Application for this event by September 11, 2015 is required.
