

Building CommUnity

April 29, 2026

Dear Building CommUnity Supporters,

We hope this message finds you well.

We're writing with an important update—and an invitation. This event was originally scheduled earlier this season; due to the second blizzard, our Winner Reading Presentation of If Only Yesterday has been rescheduled to this coming Monday, May 4, and we would be honored to have you join us.

It has been a meaningful and dynamic season for us, and we remain proud to co-produce the Voza Rivers Legacy Series alongside multi-Tony Award winner Irene Gandy and the man of the hour, Executive Producer, Voza Rivers. This series continues to celebrate and extend the extraordinary legacy of Voza Rivers—uplifting emerging artists and amplifying voices across disciplines and communities with a deep commitment to access, inclusion, and creative excellence.

Our final event of the inaugural season features If Only Yesterday, a screenplay by Eric Richardson-Hagan, a student at The City College of New York. What was originally planned as an earlier presentation has now become a culminating moment for the series—one we're especially excited to share with you.

As Alzheimer's erases his present, Charles Horton clings to the past—reliving a life filled with friendship, love, and hard-earned joy. But as his estranged daughter returns to his bedside, one question lingers: can love be reclaimed before it's too late? Through memory, humor, and regret, If Only Yesterday becomes a moving story about what we remember, what we lose, and what still has the power to heal.

 Monday, May 4

 6:30 PM (Doors open at 6:00 PM)

 Aaron Davis Hall, Theatre B

129 Convent Avenue (Between West 133rd and 135th)

Reservations remain limited to four (4) per person. If your plans change, we kindly ask that you release your tickets so others may attend.

As always, we welcome donations of any amount to help sustain and grow future programming under the Voza Rivers Legacy banner. Your support directly uplifts the next generation of artists and storytellers.

Thank you for being part of this community. We hope to see you on May 4 as we close out this inaugural season together.

Warmly,
Amy and Aaliytha
