The rite for the Inauguration of the Petrine Ministry of Leo XIV

Leo PP. XIV
8 maggio 2025

This Sunday celebration, marking the official beginning of Pope Leo XIV's pontificate, is a solemn liturgy. The liturgy begins inside St. Peter's Basilica, where accompanied by the Patriarchs of the Eastern Churches, the new Roman Pontiff descends to the chapel of the Tomb of Saint Peter, where he pauses in prayer and then incenses the site. This moment reminds us of the deep connection between the Bishop of Rome and the Apostle Peter, who, together with many other Christians, bore witness to the faith with his blood close to that very place. Deacons will then take the Pallium, the Ring of the Fisherman, and the Book of the Gospels and proceed in procession toward the altar set up on the area in front of St. Peter's Basilica, in the Square, where Pope Leo will celebrate the Mass.

During the Mass, following the proclamation of the Gospel, three Cardinals from the three orders (deacons, priests, bishops), each representing a different continent, approach Leo XIV. The first places the Pallium upon him; the second offers a special prayer for the Lord's presence and assistance upon the Pope. The third likewise prays, invoking Christ, "Shepherd and Bishop of our souls,"—who built the Church upon the rock of Peter—asking Him to bestow the Ring of the Fisherman upon the new Pope, before presenting Leo XIV with the ring. The moment concludes with a prayer to the Holy Spirit, asking that He endow the new Pope with strength and gentleness in preserving Christ's disciples in the unity of communion. The Pope then blesses the assembly with the Book of the Gospels as the acclamation "Ad multos annos!" ("Many years!") is proclaimed. The symbolic rite of obedience follows, in which twelve representatives from all the different categories of the People of God, from all over the world, pledge their obedience to the Pope. The celebration continues with the homily of the Holy Father and the continuation of the Holy Mass.

The Pallium: is a liturgical vestment made from the wool of lambs. It evokes the image of the Good Shepherd who lays the lost sheep on his shoulders, and recalls Peter's threefold response to the Risen Lord's call to tend His lambs and sheep. It is a narrow band worn over the chasuble, draped around the shoulders. It features two black pendants (front and back), six black silk crosses—one on each pendant and four on the circular band over the shoulders—and is adorned on the front and on the back with three pins (aciculae), symbolising the three nails of Christ's crucifixion.

The Ring of the Fisherman: The Ring of the Fisherman has the specific significance of a signet ring, representing the seal of faith entrusted to Peter to strengthen his brethren. It is called the "Ring of the Fisherman" because Peter, having believed in Jesus' word, drew the nets ashore from the boat in the miraculous catch of fish.

Pope Leo XIV's motto and coat of arms: Pope Leo XIV's coat of arms offers a clear reflection of his Augustinian roots and the values he seeks to promote during his pontificate, particularly unity and communion within the Church. The shield is divided diagonally into two sections. The upper half features a blue background with a white lily, representing the beauty and the Virginity of Mary, the Mother of God. The lower half of the shield has a light background and displays an image that recalls the Order of Saint Augustine: a closed book with a heart pierced by an arrow. This is a direct reference to the conversion experience of Saint Augustine himself, who described his personal encounter with God's Word using the phrase: - "You have pierced my heart with your Word." The motto chosen also reflects this Augustinian tradition: In illo uno unum, which means "In the One, we are one." The phrase is taken from Saint Augustine's Exposition on Psalm 127, where he explains that "although we Christians are many, in the one Christ we are one."

Pius's (our church cat) reflection:

Lord, source of eternal life and truth, grant Pope Leo XIV the spirit of courage, knowledge, and love as he leads your Church.
