SEASON OF CREATION 2025 PEACE WITH CREATION

“Living our vocation to be protectors of God’s handiwork is essential to a life of virtue; it is not an optional or a secondary aspect of our Christian experience.” (Laudato Si, 217)

It is ten years since the publication of Pope Francis’ encyclical, Laudato Si, urging everyone to protect the Earth, our common home, and calling us all to ecological conversion, a change of heart, changes to our lifestyles and advocacy and action for institutional change.

In his letter for the Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation, starting the Season of Creation, Pope Leo continues the message of Laudato Si: “Environmental justice ...can no longer be regarded as an abstract concept or a distant goal. It is an urgent need that involves much more than simply protecting the environment. For it is a matter of justice - social, economic and human. For believers it is also a duty born of faith, since the universe reflects the face of Christ, in whom all things were created and redeemed. In a world where the most vulnerable of our brothers and sisters are the first to suffer the devastating effects of climate change, deforestation and pollution, care becomes an expression of our faith and humanity. Now is the time to follow words with deeds... By working with love and perseverance, we can sow many seeds of justice and thus contribute to the growth of peace and the renewal of hope.” He mentions the Borgo Laudato Si Project that Pope Francis set up at Castel Gandolfo, which Pope Leo recently inaugurated - an educational project in integral human ecology that can serve as an example in how people can live, work and build community by applying the principles of the Encyclical, Laudato Si. At the conclusion of his letter, Pope Leo observes that the Encyclical, Laudato Si, has now guided the Catholic Church and many people of goodwill for ten years and says, “May it continue to inspire us and may integral ecology be increasingly accepted as the right path to follow.”

Some suggested actions for week 3 of the Season of Creation:

1. Join Pope Leo in his prayer intention for this month in which he asks the Lord: “Help us to discover Your presence in all creation, so that ... we may feel and know ourselves to be responsible for this common home where You invite us to care for, respect and protect life.”
2. Find out more about Pope Francis’ Encyclical, Laudato Si. There are several short YouTube videos, including a recent one, entitled ‘An interview with Jane Mallet on Laudato Si’ and a longer one, called ‘The Letter’, a YouTube documentary film about Laudato Si and Pope Francis. Also see the ‘Laudato Si animation for children’ on the CAFOD website. The full Encyclical document is also on the Vatican website: <https://www.vatican.va>.
3. So much of our food is high in air miles. This is having a detrimental effect on our world and climate. Yet we have a huge wealth of local produce on our doorstep. Over the next week share a meal with family or friends with only locally sourced and seasonal foods.

PIUS's reflection for the week: The universe reflects the face of Jesus Christ, in whom all things were created and redeemed. So, caring for the planet is not only an ecological necessity but also a profoundly spiritual and moral vocation.
