USABILITY FINDINGS

ROUND 1

SIZE AND FIT

A lack of standardization causes confusion among consumers, and vanity sizing – assigning smaller sizes to make consumers feel good – complicates the issue.

INFORMATION SHARING

Brands must allocate a greater proportion of their budgets to cybersecurity.

INCLUSIVITY

An authentic understanding of what representation truly means

OUTPERFORMING OTHER APPS

A lack of standardization causes confusion among consumers, and vanity sizing – assigning smaller sizes to make consumers feel good – Standardize systems.

MUST HAVES, NICE TO HAVE

y adapting to changing consumer behavior, listening to the concerns of customers and colleagues, and investing in the right solutions

IN-PERSON TRUST FACTOR

representation would be to include most of these repressed and marginalized people as members of the team.

INSIGHTS

IV. RESULTS AND RENDITION

Changing desires

Diversity from within the company will help brands to understand the needs of the complex fashion market, and ensure products and marketing truly serves the consumer base

Supply chain bottlenecks

Demonstrating progress will be particularly important to young consumers, to rebuild trust, brands must improve traceability and transparency.

Spiralling returns

Importing visuals, providing comprehensive sizing information, and implementing features such as live chat to assist customers in finding their right size can help

BUILD A VIRTUAL SHOWROOM

This app will gap the a digital or virtual showroom which is a platform for fashion businesses (like brands or suppliers) to sell and engage with each other.

CO-CREATION

Customers get to put their own creative flair into product designs, with do-it-yourself videos teaching people how to hack and customize their own fashion items.

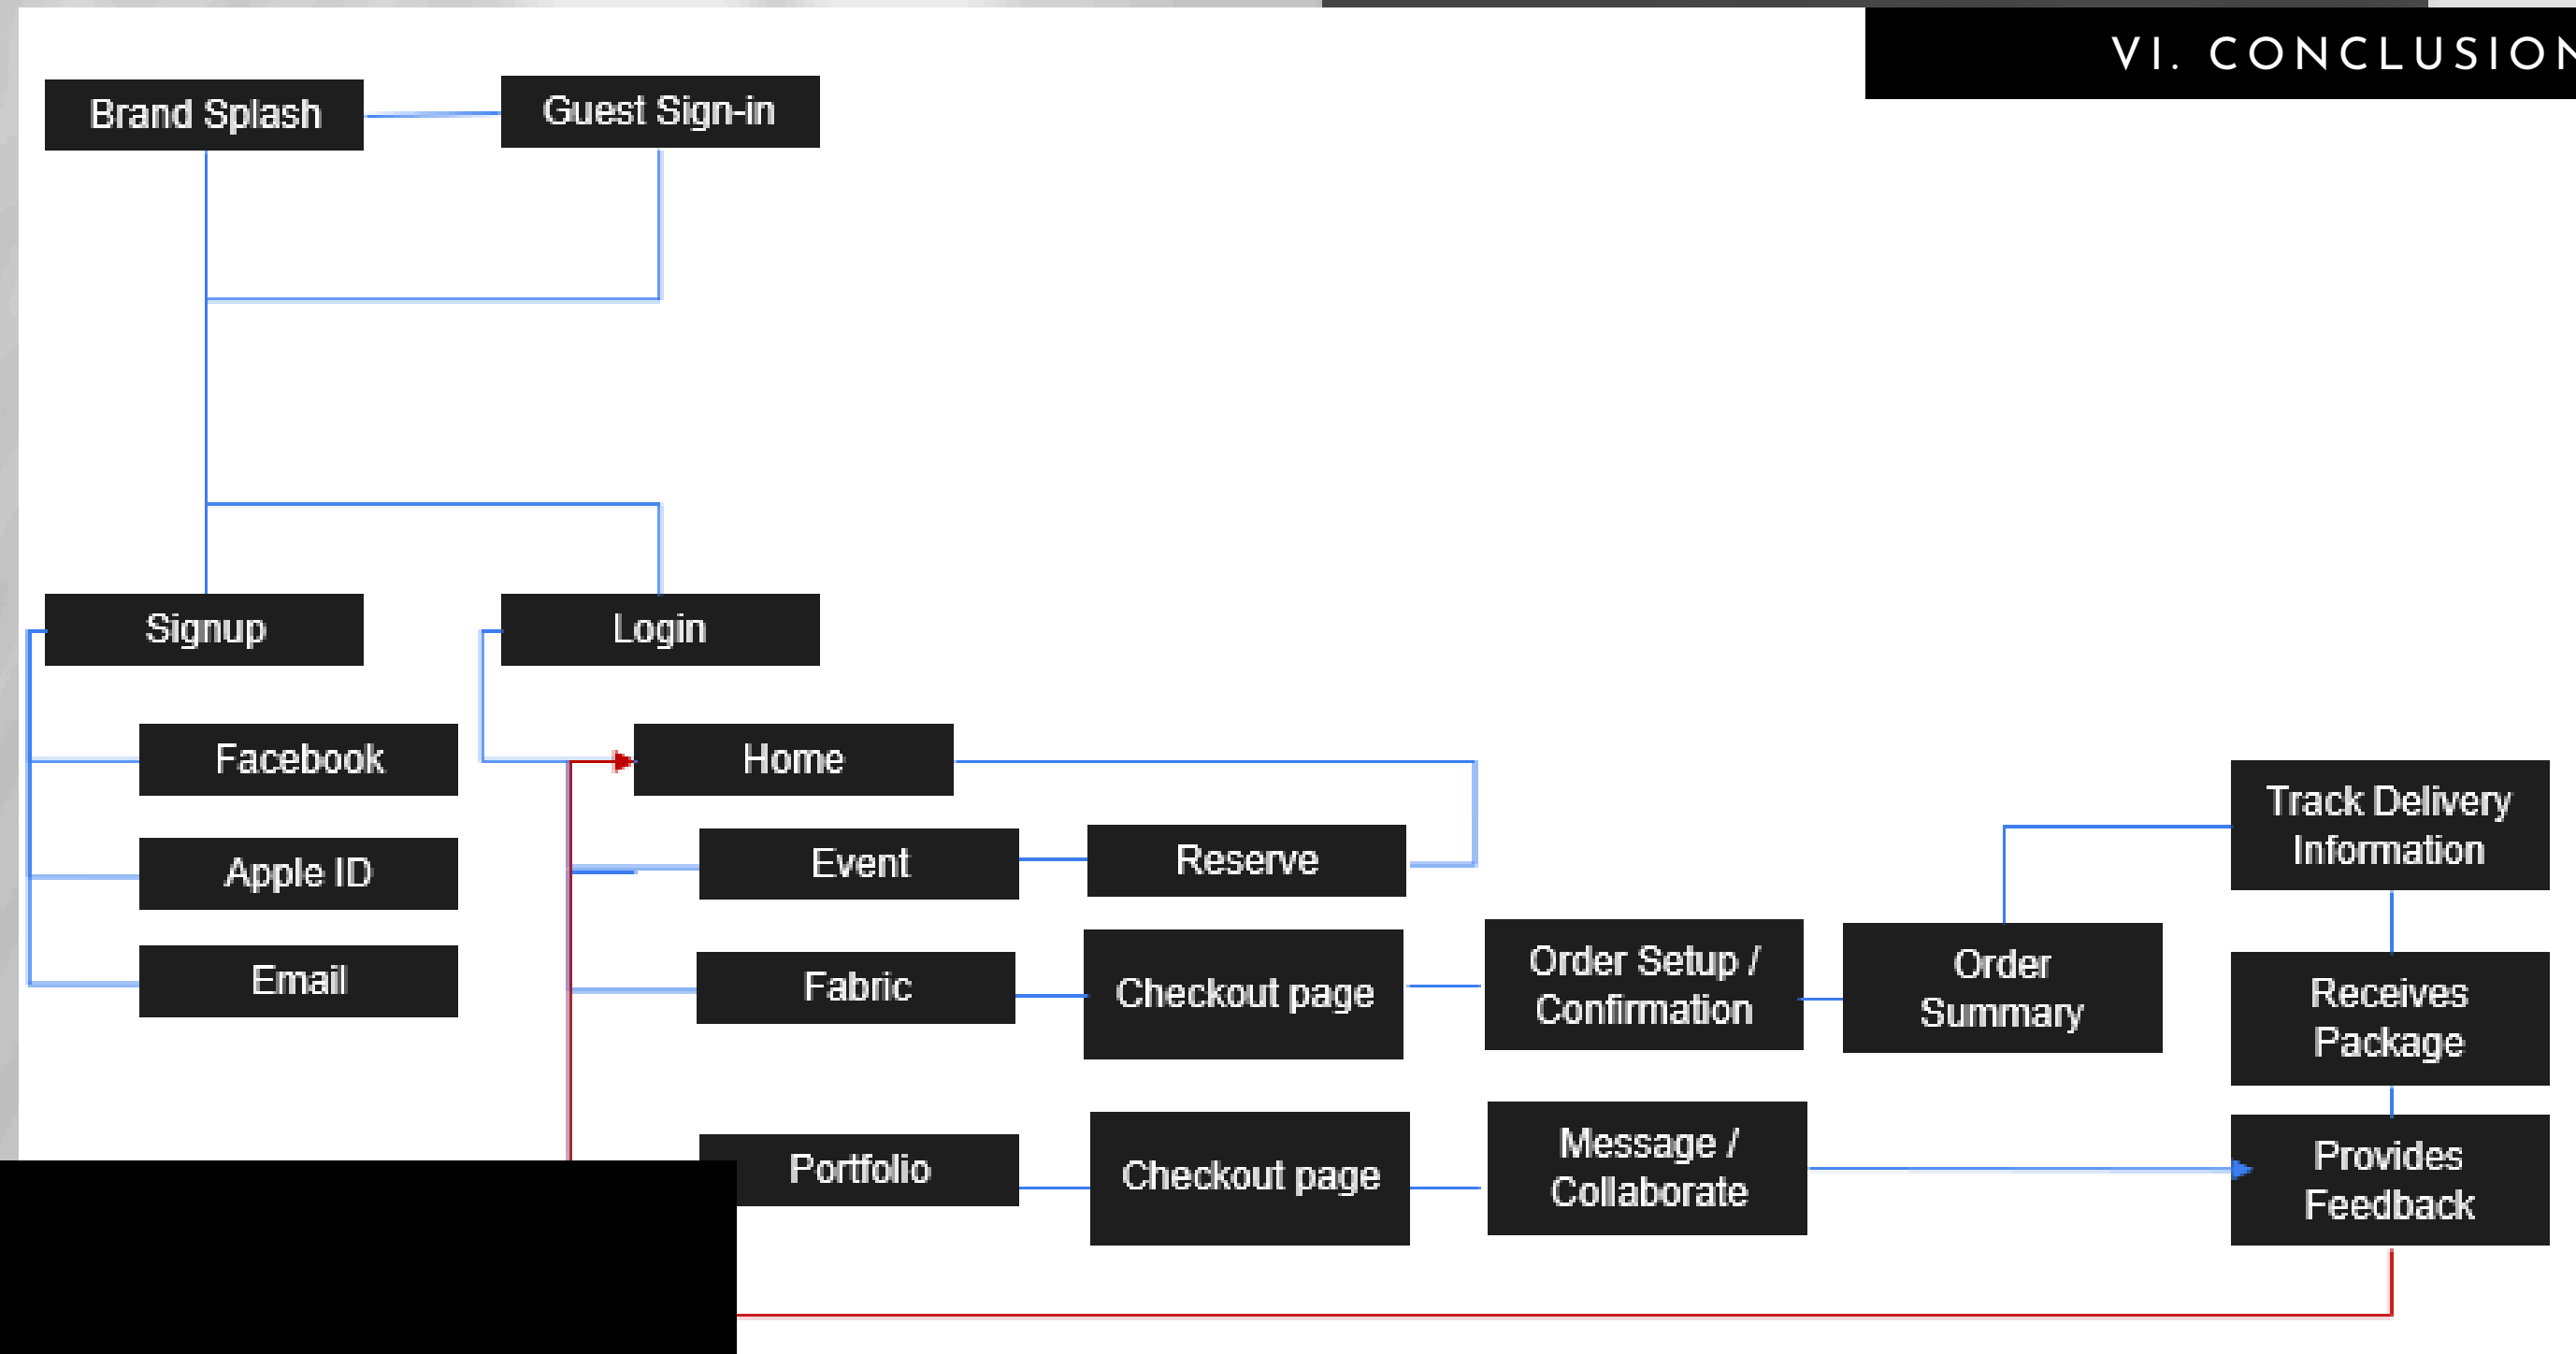

FASHION SUPPLY CHAIN - EVENTS/RAW

Collect data about your supply chain and use it to figure out where there's room for improvement and growth.

TALENT DEFICIT --> COLLABORATION MADE BETTER

Businesses must also appease post-pandemic desires by continuing to offer flexibility.
