

Postage and Shipping Information from: Dahut Creations by Waterwench© 1978 to Date

The current climate affected by economics worldwide has caused severe disruptions and increases to all postage and shipping services. Dahut Creations by Waterwench© attempts to keep all postage and shipping costs to a minimum by using standard postage and in the event heavier artworks are purchased outside of WA requiring postage, a courier service can be engaged. All care is taken to ensure items are packaged safely and securely.

Dahut Creations by Waterwench© uses standard Domestic and International Australia Post at this time for the majority of items requiring postage. Postage options are available on request at time of purchase and or order enquiry

Dimensions and weight

- Dimensions and weight of each work is stated and this is used to calculate postage costs of the items being purchased if the items are not unframed prints on either art cartridge or material. (these items are free standard postage worldwide)
- Dimensions and approximate weight of each work and or product is stated and this is used to calculate postage costs at the time of purchase.

Free Local Pickup and or delivery

Everything I create and offer for sale is available for local pickup as well as free local delivery within a 25km radius of my workshop. I also obtain quotes for heavier works for delivery within Australia from varying courier companies, with the economic climate causing all of us so much stress and heartache all around our beautiful planet, patience is needed when it comes for waiting for anything to arrive via post, whether it be Australian or International.

- * Due to the nature of encaustic , resin and glass creations, the postage can be very expensive. If you wish to purchase these heavier items, every effort will be made to reduce the cost of postage.

Over the years I had ceased selling and posting to international customers as their country's import and gift taxes and duties became exorbitant on top of the massive increase by Australia Post for International Postage, I have however found that by offering works of art unframed on art cartridge, flat canvas panels and or material, I have been able to commence to provide free standard Australian and basic International postage for these works.

(Free Australian postage is advertised on available works)
