What an incredible film festival experience I had in the beautiful and welcoming Statesville! The hospitality and organization were excellent, and the selection of films was truly top-notch.

The screening was perfect, with a fully packed theatre, followed by a terrific Q&A with such an interested, warm, and engaged audience. I also had the chance to network with other talented filmmakers and wonderful people. The Full Bloom Film Festival is filled with culture, art, creativity, passion, fun and love. One of the best festivals I've ever attended, and an experience so meaningful that I will treasure it forever.

The filming venues were great, all within walking distance to one another. There were roundtable discussions and parties with wonderful food, drinks and an awesome band. The opening and closing film events were packed and so much attention to detail was given to all aspects of the three day event

This festival truly caters to each filmmaker and I highly recommend submitting your film to them. If you are lucky enough to be selected you will have a memorable time and be surrounded by people who are interested in film. Thank you Full Bloom Film Festival!
