

Retired Federal "deep state" Civil Service

Depart of Energy - high voltage grid operations (NorCal grid area)

FAA - air traffic control (LaGuardia Tower)

Formal education

Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University - Bachelor's degree (only anecdotally remembered)

State University of New York at Albany - Master's degree (mostly all forgotten)

President of the Embry-Riddle bowling league one semester (more fun than my classes)

The real education

US Army - Vietnam Era (stationed in West Germany - lucky!)

Sports career of a "small but slow" athlete

College and high school sports referee - lacrosse, basketball, and volleyball

Selected for induction into the Northern California Lacrosse Hall of Fame (me - really? I'm humbled)

Why me?

I didn't discover the East Portal Bocce Club until last year, but once I did I went all-in. I have spent my entire career working to ensure the integrity of American life (grid operations, air traffic control, sports referee) and I want to do the same for the EPBC.
