Open NC Collaborative
972 Mission St.
San Francisco, CA 94103
415-818-1286

FACT SHEET   CONTACT: Viktoria Alston, Student Volunteer
                                             252-646-3315, viktoria@live.unc.edu

Dec. 3, 2021

ABOUT OPEN NC COLLABORATIVE

What is Open NC Collaborative?

- A nonpartisan, nonprofit civic technology organization that provides a bridge for North Carolina residents to the national Code for America program.

- An advocate for community improvement through public service and technology.

Our mission: To improve public services and leverage open data to improve knowledge, transparency and accountability across North Carolina.

How was it started?   In 2017, Jennifer Miller founded Open NC Collaborative to unite the seven Code for America brigades in North Carolina. As the sole leadership, Miller continues to foster community improvement through civic technology and collaboration.

Who does it serve?

- 51 members and seven Code for America brigades in North Carolina

- People all skill levels, disciplines and experience across the state

- Local and state governments and community organizations

How does it do it?

- Participation in Code for America's national program

- Partnerships with government and community organizations

- Providing people with tools and skills to improve their communities

- State and local events and projects that promote community empowerment, skill building and improving North Carolina

- Biweekly meetings centered around skill building and networking

- Charitable donations

For more information:

- Visit the Open NC Collaborative Meetup page

- Visit the Code for America Brigade website