Five 2017 FSS Graduates Buy Houses

Homeownership is the ultimate dream of many participants of the Family Self Sufficiency (FSS) program. Valrie Alexander, Jarin Cruz, Kendra McCalmon, Luis Sotomayor, and Shaquoia Ruffin all achieved that dream in 2017.

Everyone's path to homeownership is different, but by earning escrow in the FSS program through increased wages, money can be set aside during the five year program to use as a down payment. While working with a case manager at the WAGE Center, goals are set surrounding credit repair, qualifying for mortgages and using other available grant and money matching vehicles if homeownership is a goal.

There are many resources in the Capital Region to help homebuyers achieve their dreams. Once an FSS participant begins to escrow money through earning more, it's time to start budgeting and planning for the future, whether for a home, a car, or other goal related things such as computers for educational support, etc. For more information on how to make the most of your escrow money and plan for goal achievement, make an appointment with FSS Manager, Wendy at (518) 380-5601.

WENDY'S WISDOM

Wendy Colon is the WAGE Center FSS Manager. In this issue she shares 3 Things Successful FSS Participants Do:

- Focus on goals and budgeting
- Ask for help and be an active participant
- Get a new job, upgrade your current job

Let us help you with a refreshed resume, come to application clinics, take advantage of workshops to upgrade your skills and knowledge. Use the Adult Education program to get a GED or get tutoring to help with a difficult class.

If you're not employed, you should send out 5 resumes/applications every day. Make getting a job your daily job.

How to make FSS Work for you

From New Homeowner, Shaquoia Ruffin, “to families coming into the program, I would say to take it seriously. This is an opportunity to better your life and circumstances with an added incentive at the end. Don't just write down minor goals to accomplish, really think about what it is you want to do or where you want to be in 5 years. Passing my nursing boards, becoming financially independent and owning a home were my goals. Figure out your goals, come up with a plan to achieve them, and make it reality! I feel that I was successful because I had a plan, and I was focused!”

“It starts from your way of thinking”

~Domestic Violence Case Manager and former Section 8 recipient, Felicia

FSS Participant, Vernell Wilson has taken advantage of the WAGE Center's adult education tutoring program to help her get her Associate's Degree and become employed full-time in Human Services. She says, “ I don't know why more people don't take advantage of the opportunities available.”

What are your goals? How can we help? Stop in or call today to put your plan into action.
