

What's Blooming in April

Thank you to everyone who joined us for our March community meeting! We had a great turnout and appreciated hearing from Cam McCutchen of the City of Phoenix Planning & Development Department on bringing a farmer's market to the Metro District.

As we step into April, there's a lot to look forward to—we're gearing up for some exciting events and can't wait to see you there!

Recent News

Lucero Becomes First Residential Community in the Metro District

A new chapter begins in the Metro District as Lucero Apartments opens its doors, welcoming the very first residents to this reimagined area of Phoenix. Located at 9275 N. 29th Avenue, Lucero sets the tone for modern urban living with a focus on comfort, connection, and community.

Inspired by its name, Lucero, meaning “light” or “star” in Spanish, this thoughtfully designed, gated community offers elegant one- and two-bedroom homes with upscale finishes, resort-style amenities, and a strong sense of belonging. From the fully equipped fitness center and furnished work-from-home suites to the scenic Arizona Canal Trail and pet-friendly perks, Lucero blends lifestyle and convenience in a way that's never been seen before in this neighborhood.

As the first residential project to open in the Metro District, Lucero Apartments marks a major milestone in the area's transformation—and sets the stage for what's to come.

Stay Cool with the Metro District: Cholla Library Extended Hours

As temperatures rise, Cholla Library is once again stepping up as a cooling center—and this year, it's better than ever. Starting May 1st, all regular library services will remain available until 10 PM, giving the community a safe, comfortable place to cool off, read, relax, and connect.

Whether you're escaping the heat or catching up on your favorite book, Cholla Library is here to support the Metro District all summer long.
