Officer Wellness: Implementing & Operating Resilient CISM and Peer Support Programs

COURSE DESCRIPTION: Officer Wellness: Implementing & Operating Critical Incident Stress Management (CISM) and Peer Support Programs is a two-day course designed for law enforcement and other first responding agencies looking for guidance in developing or improving Officer Wellness programs, specifically CISM and a Peer Support Programs. First Responders consistently work in adverse and stressful conditions that often directly affect their personal and professional lives. The course will take an in-depth look at Post-Traumatic Stress (PTS/PTSD), Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI), and Moral Injury effects on the brain. A wide variety of officer wellness programs will be discussed, all focusing on improving prevention training, stress management, and effective coping mechanisms, thus improving personal and professional relationships, reducing the adverse consequences of cumulative stress and suicide. Students will be given the knowledge and materials to implement a CISM and Peer Support Program designed to offer assistance to agency members in times of personal and/or professional stress, early intervention to help mitigate the impacts of stress, referral to program services, and education-based training.

TOPICS INCLUDE:

- Stress in the first responder services
- Post-Traumatic Stress (PTS) and Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI)
- Effects of PTSD & TBI on the Brain
- Critical Incident Stress Management (CISM) & Peer Support Programs
- Critical Incident Stress Debriefings
- Developing Agency Programs
- Model CISM & Peer Support Programs
- Michigan CISM Laws
- Relevant CISM related case law
