Hatching Egg Terms & Conditions

Purchasing hatching eggs can be a great way to spend less while adding more chicks to your flock. Eggs purchased from us are collected daily, roated daily and will be no more than 3 days old when shipped. Our personal hatch rate with most of our breeds is around 90%, no eggs from any pen with less than 80% hatch rate will be made available.

We use foam shippers to help ensure that your eggs are delivered to you the way they leave our farm. Because the package will change hands during transportation, we do not give refunds or guarantee hatch rates on shipped eggs.

Please note that extreme temperatures can affect the viability of hatching eggs. It is the buyers responsibility to look up weather conditions.

If you would like to order hatching eggs, email us with your request and we will send you real-time expected availability.

Thank you!
