

80h WATER-PROOF LAMINATE FLOOR

It is the 3rd generation of water-proof laminate, the 1st one is black core HDF from Floor & Decor, whose cost is about 1-1.5 usd/sqm expensive than ours, and the key to water-proof is only from the HDF density (8% higher than our present one). But we do the comparison testing between ours and them, it is not stable, and can only last about 24-30 hours after we spray water on the surface, and then the board will swell.

The 2nd generation is from Quick-step or Pergo, with good HDF, and tighter click and also aqua seal agent on the click.

We are doing the similar as Quick step, HDF quality is similar as them, tight click, but with imported aqua seal agent on the 4 sides click tongue and also bevel edges, so that water will not leak underneath the board, and also have better water-proof performance.
