President's Report

Residents' Voices

What Our Programs Mean to the Community

"It's natural for me to focus on all I've lost and not notice what I may have gained. What I'm trying to say is that I appreciate all you are doing for me; especially, just allowing me to express what I'm feeling."

This past year has again been very challenging for everyone. The Crescent Valley Resource Centre was no exception.

With the many changes in COVID-19 regulations throughout the year, the staff had to continue to be very flexible in how they delivered our programs and in how they assisted and kept in contact with our residents.

Our Executive Director, Anne Driscoll, provided outstanding leadership and our dedicated staff continued to give their all. Anne, Joy, Justin, Olivia, Laila, Rachel, Wayne - your contributions to CVRC are very much appreciated. The extra summer staff enhanced the programs we were able to deliver, especially to the children.

We are fortunate to have committed sponsors who believe in our vision and work. They continue to support the much-needed programs and services. Thank You!

Thank you to the CVRC Board members, partners, volunteers, and residents. With the collaboration of all, CVRC has helped Crescent Valley develop into a flourishing neighbourhood.

Ann Barrett
President CVRC 2021

103 bikes were distributed, 140 bikes were rebuilt, and 500 small repairs and adjustments were made from the Crescent Valley location between June and November 2021.

Executive Director's Report

2021 was a rollercoaster year with ups and downs, obstacles and challenges yet, many successes in Crescent Valley were seen despite the pandemic.

Assisting residents to help improve their lives and helping to make the neighbourhood a stronger place is at the core of what we do. Activities such as our children's camp, community garden and greenhouse, bike share program, new bike skills mini park, literacy initiatives and countless food security supports are a few examples of the many and varied activities we regularly undertake. New in 2021 - we began supporting residents who require harm-reduction supplies and, a needle box is now located on the resource centre building. We welcomed and supported new neighbours who have settled in Crescent Valley from countries around the world, such as Eritrea, Somalia and Sudan. Check out our impact stories in this report.

I cannot thank my coworkers enough for their perseverance throughout 2021; it was a difficult year with many bumps in the road but they are truly a dream team. In 2021 we said goodbye to our coworkers Maryam Naser and Olivia Clancy. We welcomed Laila ElBaghdadi who supports the many Arabic speaking individuals in our neighbourhood, and Rachel Milne our neighbourhood developer. Her work is part of a new initiative bringing neighbourhood developers to four of the city's priority neighbourhoods.

A highlight of 2021 was the completion of the evaluation project with the Community Foundation. We can now more closely examine our work, and constructively measure and evaluate it. A Theory of Change was developed for the Crescent Valley Resource Centre to guide us and help keep us on track. See our Theory of Change on page 7.

Sincere thanks go to our supporters, donors, volunteers, and sponsors who have made our work possible. The Crescent Valley Resource Centre has many supporters - corporate/business, individuals, community, government, and others. However, I especially want to acknowledge several who have made recurring or major contributions: EMERA New Brunswick, the Turnbull Home Foundation, Second Harvest, Nutrien, the Community Foundation, the Department of Social Development, the Environmental Trust Fund. City of Saint John, the New Brunswick Children's Foundation - thank you!

We couldn't do our work without the support of our Board of Directors, led by President Ann Barrett – they are our guiding light. Thank you.

Thank you to all who have helped us keep moving forward.

Anne Driscoll
Executive Director

What Our Programs Mean to the Community

"Every time I have mentioned your name, to my landlord or to people I have spoken to with regards to helping, I have held you in high regard and complimented the work you do for the community. I just wanted to pass that on so you can know you are making a positive difference in people's lives."

In 2021 there were 1387 participants in literacy-related events and activities such as activity books, giveaways, Summer Squad, resume building, community library, and seasonal events.

The land on which we gather is the traditional territory of the Wolastoqiyik, Wəlastəkwēiyik / Maliseet whose ancestors along with the Mi'Kmaq / Mi'kmaw and Passamaquoddy / Peskotomuhkati Tribes / Nations signed Peace and Friendship Treaties with the British Crown in the 1700s.

IMPACT STORY #1

In early January, we became aware of a fire in Crescent Valley that displaced two families. The centre connected with those affected to see what we could do to assist them during this difficult time. They were given clothing and toys to entertain their children while they were staying in a hotel paid by the Red Cross. Two days later, one of the families approached us and asked for help because the Red Cross was only able to cover the cost of a hotel for several days and they were being asked to leave. We coordinated with Social Development - Housing Division for the families to have their hotel rooms covered until their homes were ready.

Once the families moved back into the neighbourhood, they needed new furniture due to the water damage from the fire. We connected them with Salvation Army for new mattresses. The family has repeatedly expressed their appreciation and that they know we did all that we could to provide support and assistance. They noted that they now have a centre they can trust.

A total of 2602 participants in food security programs, which represents approximately 3550 people fed

IMPACT STORY #2

Abshir*, a Newcomer resident who arrived in December 2021, found our centre after searching online for programs offered in the Crescent Valley community. When he came to visit the centre, we gave him a tour and talked about the services we provide. He signed his family up for Food Purchasing Club and was given an emergency food bag. Many of the items were canned and he did not know how to use a can opener because the cans in his country had pull tabs. We gave him a tutorial on how to open a can and provided a can opener for the family.

After meeting with our neighbourhood developer, a plan was developed to find resources to support two of his main goals: obtaining an education and developing friendships with people similar in age. Through the process of resource referral, Abshir has met friends at PRUDE Inc.'s Dive into YSJ program for Newcomer youth from the ages of 16-30. Several meetings were set up with the University of New Brunswick – Saint John campus to discuss the application process and what the university has to offer. He has applied and been interviewed for a spot in the Skills Launch Youth program through the YMCA. He hopes to gain experience in the IT field and pursue a university degree in computer science to support his mother and his three younger siblings.

"I am so glad to have you with me in my process of settling down in Saint John."

Residents' Voices

What Our Programs Mean to the Community

"We loved the Meal Makers, it is the only time we sit down together to eat together to try something different."

Residents' Voices

What Our Programs Mean to the Community

"I need help with cooking skills and I feel good when I make the meal makers, it gives me a feeling of confidence and accomplishment when it turns out well. I really enjoy it. To gain some confidence in the kitchen is a really great thing for those of us who didn't pick up skills in the kitchen. Such a nice gift."
