Meet the Clinicians:
Jessica Mast

Jessica and her husband, David Mast own and operate Stonewall Farm in Shelbyville, TN where they specialize in training flat-shod Tennessee Walking Horses. Jessica started her riding career at age 3. Through the North Carolina 4-H Horse Program she experienced many different disciplines, however the Tennessee Walking Horse has always been her first love. She received her first registered TWH T age 12 and completed in 4-H and breed shows at the Regional and National levels. Jessica began teaching riding lessons at age 15 and over the following years has students compete successfully at State, Regional, and National shows. After attending North Carolina State University, Jessica began her training career. Her focus is on producing horse/ rider teams that are competitive in the Amateur and Youth Divisions. Her teams have won numerous awards at the National, International, and World Championship shows.

Kyle Elliot

Kyle Elliott, owner of Elliott Performance Horses in Shelbyville, TN began his training career in 2013 on his parents farm in Enumclaw, WA. In the fall of 2014 he relocated to New London, Ohio before settling in Shelbyville, TN. Kyle has produced National, International, and World Champions and won the inaugural Maiden Championship aboard WC Twenty Four Carrots ML. Kyle has a particular fondness for training All Around horses and teaching TWH to canter.
