

THE BIRDS OF DOG

An Historical Novel Based on Mostly True Events

Thursday, March 21, 6:30 p.m.
Southworth Library

Join science journalist Ann Parson for an illustrated talk about her new book, The Birds of Dog:
An Historical Novel Based on Mostly True Events,
a tale of love and science that spans the 1800s.

Ms. Parson will take us back to the early days of the Boston Society of Natural History and the Audubon Society. She'll touch on lost stories and forgotten pioneers, read from her book, and explain what inspired her to write her first work of fiction.

For more information, e-mail fodl.libraries@gmail.com.

Free and Open to the Public