

Tiffany Pollack & Co.

Tiffany Ann Pollack is New Orleans. She's the beauty that lies deep down within old pain that defines America's most mysterious city. She's been a foster daughter. A teen mom. A mortician. A studio vocalist. And now, an award-winning singer/songwriter and bandleader.

A family reunion gig with her cousin, Eric Johanson, led to a contract with Nola Blue Records and a duet album released in 2019. Blues In My Blood received a silver medal for Blues/Rock Album in the Global Music Awards; and Best Blues Song ("Blues in My Blood") and Best Story Song ("Michael") at the Independent Music Awards. The album was nominated for Best New Artist Debut Album in the 2019 Blues Blast Music Awards.

Pollack's sophomore release on Nola Blue, Bayou Liberty (2021), was produced by multi-Blues Music Award-winner John Németh and recorded at Electraphonic in Memphis, Tennessee. It received a silver medal for Americana in the Global Music Awards. Her song, "Livin' for Me" was a semi-finalist in both the Unsigned Only Music Competition and the International Songwriting Competition.

- 2022 OffBeat Magazine BEST OF THE BEAT nominee, Best Emerging Artist
- 2-time Global Music Awards Silver Medal winner - Female Vocalist

"Pollack is an often-stunning vocalist, loaded with uncanny raw power and chilling vibrato." ~Dan Willging, OffBeat magazine
