

Festival of Lighting Day Six

This day completes the endeavors to componentize systems for transitioning to the Lands of Promise.

Very few can vouch for today's completion. That said, we need to go to a higher level of understanding. For example, there are eighteen dimensions of time in heaven. All the dimensions are interconnected into a whole system that interfaces with the earth's countless social processes that must work through the dimensions before declaring completion.

Not all social processes start simultaneously, thus ending at different times. As a rule, developmental processes are fundamentally uneven.

Black

White

Black is the material source of creation throughout the universe. Therefore, all ideals named and unnamed and seen and unseen, not accounted for, came to the stage of completion related to ORDER24J and Headphone25.

The Judahite uses the black and white color signs given to him to symbolize completion. For example, black represents the New Moon, invisible to the eyes. The New Moon means that its electrical energy is complete, or the material composites enable the transfer of its power to the Full Moon, which all can see.

The Centerpiece

Today, the Judahite received the oath of restoration of Judah and the Ten Tribes. But, today, the supernatural activities referenced those objects and prophetic concepts discussed over the past year marking timely completion for each aggregate to complete the eighteen dimensions.

What a day, each aggregate germane to Headphone25 is certified, as it is a suborder of ORDER24J. Using symbolism, the New Moon is equivalent to ORDER24J, and the moon's phases are equal to Headphone25.

In closing, the specialized supernatural activities mark Heaadphone25 certified.