The War in Europe

The rights of victors. After WWII, Stalin, Churchill, and Roosevelt came to a respectful understanding of each nation's regional orbiter's influence, with marked boundaries of the Soviet Union. Socialist countries comprised one camp, and countries embracing Western-style democracies were the other camp.

The Cold War was not premised on the territorial acquisition, or ideological conflict between capitalism and socialism, though propaganda misdirected the world's attention on economic competition between the two Camps that benefited the evolutionary stages of the Military-industrial complex.

Having operational bases in various parts of the world during WWII, the Department of Defense (DOD) continued its global base expansion policy. Thus, WWII was the pre-condition for establishing the United States of America (USA) as the world's global superpower.

Two key factors that led to the USA becoming the world's superpower second to none. First, the USA had a developed industrial base economy with the capacity to expand without limiting products worldwide. WWII disabled most of Europe's and Asia's economies, and thus, by default, the USA filled the global leadership vacuum. Under the Marshall Plan, Europe reconstructed its economy. Likewise, Japan became an economic partner of the USA.

The Soviets Union broke up as an empire. Why? The reason is simple. Priority resources went to fueling ongoing advanced technologies in weapon systems at the expense of technologies to secure human resource requirements. The Soviets did not have significant trading partners with impressive Gross National Product (GNPs) and advanced, diversified industries to keep pace with the United States GNP.

Mis-comparison is often the case when comparing Russia with the United States. The Soviet social system never rested on monopoly capitalism or imperialism. At best, the social system rested on a planned economy in the interest of workers. Thus, the only valid comparison is matching advanced weaponry and space technologies in intellectual fairness.

The Soviets were the first to put a man into space.

A bidding war went on between Russia and the USA for German scientists.
Finally, the Germans decided what was best for themselves and Humanity.

The Cold War is another term for Spy War. The root basis for the Spy War is German knowledge. The Germans knew something about their destiny; therefore, the scientists divided themselves into two groups, one group to the USA and the other to Russia.

Each group negotiated good deals for their careers and the well-being of their families. They gave the USA a sample of how advanced they were in rocketry because they had worked out the science of physics—hitherto, no one on the earth possessed the knowledge.

World History takes a leap arranged by Archangel Michael

The Germans are good research people. They follow the facts and act accordingly. The Germans gave us the Protestant Reformation.

It is crucial to touch on a few circumstantial events that changed the course of the world. An occult society within Germany's scientific community claims to have established contact with people from a different planet. Through that connection, the Germans solved many of their insurmountable physics problems.

Whether that claim is valid is not of concern. However, the Germans established a connection in some way and somehow with an extraterrestrial group in Antarctica. Logic gives us clues as to where the Germans came into advanced knowledge. They told the Americans about their base in Antarctica.

The USA sent a flagship of elite officers and equipment to Antarctica for mop-up operations. It turned out disastrously for the Americans. They saw military technology out of this world, cutting them into pieces.

The American military learned a big, big lesson: all military powers on the earth, then and future, will always be second-rated when in direct conflict.

Next came, in 1947, an alien spaceship crash in Roswell, one of many. There are a few theories as to how the spaceships crashed. While adventurous reasoning is captivating, The Judahite will focus on the practical outcome. With the German scientists now in the loop, whether in Russia or the USA, they held to the national interest of their respective countries. The USA had a significant advantage over Russia in developing new industries and technologies for military and commercial purposes, revolutionizing American society. Considering all modern-day conveniences, they are linked in some way to back-door engineering alien technology found in spacecraft. Moreover, in Area 51, aliens collaborate with the Americans on advanced weapon systems.

Generally known, the Arm Race between Russia and the USA is about who has the latest technological weapons. Making sense, the competition is a mutual statement of deterrents.

Based on the books written by scholars on foreign affairs, Russia, for the most part, respects arms treaties with the USA. The consistent violator is the USA.

War in Ukraine

Wars are nothing new. Those who plan wars usually work off a main plan. In the War Rooms, senior level military officers run simulated scenarios in real time, activated by what if?

The politics in Washington DC and the country has become diffused. The contradiction between words and actions is evident in irreconcilable differences on what is of national interest to the benefit of all.

Value-judgment statements coming from politicians are at odds with the Preamble to the U.S. Constitution. Outrageous behavior among state and national politicians is at an all-time high. We elect politicians to be our leaders. However, in the main, politicians follow traditional patterns year after year. Regardless of the issues within the public domain, misdirection and confusion hopelessly entangle thoughts.

Politicians aside, for now, there is something in the air that causes increasing acrimony among people coming from the airwaves of radio and TV talk shows, attributing to more confusion and misdirection with no signs of abatement.

With the mentioned realities in mind, they will serve as the backdrop for Ukraine War.

Ukraine appears to be the pulled linchpin for WWII

Before the war in Ukraine, Burisma came before the American public through a Congressional Hearing that led to the U.S. President's impeachment. The Hearings looked at all relevant factors. There appeared to be national security issues involved from the previous presidential administration that accounted for American interest in Ukraine. Expected to be highly classified, the Hearings did not touch national security issues.

Burisma, a Holding Limited Company, was formed to explore energy and its production. Founded in 2002 and with headquarters in Kyiv, Ukraine, Burisma is one of the largest private natural gas producers in Ukraine.

Ukraine was once part of the Soviet Bloc. Why did Russia come into Ukraine with its army?

Without getting into the triggering events, be they imaginary or real, the reality is that war is being waged. The USA supports the Ukrainian government with substantial amounts of military equipment and advisers.

The 144k must consider the Truism of War.

- In war, the first casualty of war is TRUTH.
- The initial premise of war differs from the reasoning at the war's end.

Never letting one's opponent gain the upper hand is the motivation for action and reaction. On April 14, 2022 Ukraine sunk the Moskva, the Russian flagship commanding the Black Sea, with the assistance of U.S. intelligence.

Punch and counterpunch. From the mass media, with each new form of action, the public is led to take sides.

The Judahite is not endorsing a party in the conflict. However, as the LORD continues to disclose his end times plans, The Judahite will see the puzzle fall into place and act accordingly.

The Magistrate's calendar dates can be trusted. October 10, 2022, displayed, in part, the following:

- Putin ordered a massive missile attack on Ukraine.
- Russian Hackers take down websites of at least 13 airports across the United States on Monday (October 10).

There is talk about tactical nuclear strikes. It appears WWIII is about to unfold in a three parts act. Dark forces are pushing for WWIII as part of their planning for a new era on earth. The New World Order has been talked about for years; thus, nothing is new.

On the other hand, the Executive Body of Israel has its own plans in biblical prophecies. For example, manufactured electricity will be cut, and telecommunications will cease with or without any assistance from man.

Already known WWIII will bring.

Electromagnetic pulse (EMP) missiles will explode above cities causing everything to go down. There will be no need for hackers.
