Recapping, UK Prime Minister Sunak arrived as another lesson for understanding social laws of development. The Judahite emphasizes: Sunak's election win was predetermined six hundred years ago when England fought Portugal over trading posts expansion in India, eventually forcing Portugal to go elsewhere.

According to the social laws of development, someone from the tribe of Gad had to become the UK Prime Minister, not necessarily Sunak.

Consider the integration. Over hundreds of years, England co-evolved with Manasseh India. England's colonialism systematized processes and created laws to govern India. Economic trade rules were combined with England's socially stratified system of classes nested within racial groupings, thus, constituted the governing order. It took generations to imbed the theoretical framework within the population mentally. Eventually, the nation accepted Queen Victoria in her extended role as the corporate head of India. Such simplifies how the conjoint social laws were formed, as inextricably tied England to India.

The Foundational Approach

The Judahite's approach is one of forming theoretical components and amplifying the kernel of the New Covenant given by the Magistrate of Heaven.

Whereas The Judahite's presentations are for general consumption, there are presentations in format for specific use. For example, the Executive Body of Israel will soon form special focus committees for institutionalizing social, religious, and economic systems and rules for the Commonwealth of Israel. Future presentations will be presented in conformity with each design for adding social developmental laws under the Stone Kingdom.

Constitutionalizing a framework

In the October 19 presentation, the Communal Spirit 19 certified a checklist with the index of statutes, doctrinal concepts, precepts, and covenant stipulations.

Division One

Division Two

The puddles of water appeared on the same prophetic date as the official approval of Babylon's new Prime Minister, October 23. The correlational events say that one will be negated, and the other event portends a great future.

Someone foretold of an expected happening on October 24 that would bring joy. Indeed, October 24 came with two expected contrary events. The Sunak was sworn in as the new Prime Minister.

The top shelf in the pantry collapsed. Unlike the previous two times, the two pegs in the back collapsed, causing the cooking pans to move downward. The Judahite heard two thunderous sounds; getting up to investigate, he concluded the sound came from outside the unit.

Later the discovery was made. Unlike the two times before, the shelves forced the pantry door open. This sign is about the closed door. The interpretation: those who are not qualified to be part of the promised families are excluded from sitting at the meal in the Lands of Promise.

Joy indeed. But the absolute pleasure in the legislative policy about Headphone25 Order consummating the charms.

> Pertaining to the supernatural falling of the pantry shelf on October 24
>
> a. "Legislative actions in support of the oaths will allocate resources for their realizations.
> b. The Gentile's legal standards. The Executive Body of Israel will use the Gentiles' standards of measure to evaluate the Gentiles as the same criteria used to judge the Congregation. The measures would no longer be valid when the Commonwealth of Israel reaches its consolidation stage."

October 27