Biblical background on the solar eclipses

The solar eclipses of August 21, 2017, and April 8, 2024, stand as awe-inspiring celestial events. Still, they are milestone markers for a seven-year period in which all the necessary phases per Jeremiah's Seventy-year prophecy and Revelation 12 sign combine with Jonah's sign of retribution and redemption.

August 21, 2017, solar eclipse represented Jonah's visits to Nineveh with the message of universal repentance. Still, when Jesus referenced Jonah: "no sign will be given except Jonah," who disappeared and reappeared after three days, dimensionally, to universalize his archetypal lesson salvation, is for those who acknowledge their misdeeds before Elohim and repent.

The Egyptian economy collapsed, following the exodus, forcing monarch family members to relocate to Nineveh. Drawing from their experiences in Egypt, they urged the Ninevites to repent. In a hopeful turn of event, they covered themselves in sackcloth, a sign of repentance, before the forty-day deadline. This was a significant step, even though Nineveh struggled to maintain its newfound spiritual faith.

Jonah's disobedience and the pathway of dimensional time

Although Jonah disobeyed his missionary assignment, the act doesn't give a comprehensive view of this episode. There is an overall divine lesson to learn.

Jonah's spiritual and psychological actions, influenced by his knowledge of Nineveh's heathenistic population, mirror an understanding of our times. He struggled with the concept of relative time, which resonates even in our current era, offering a message that transcends time.

In short, Jonah was thinking about a repeat of Jericho, a major center of practicing heathenism. His dual message dovetailed with the Arabs and Atlantic slave trades.

The LORD entrusted Jonah with the monumental task of preaching repentance. To effectively deliver this warning message of the future, Jonah's character message had to embody sound (hearing) and feelings, resonating with the people of his time and our current era. Like in Sodom and Gomorrah, Egypt, Jericho, and many cities in Joshua's conquest of Canaan, Jonah's message had to strike a chord with his audience, a testament to the spiritual power of Elohim's effective communication. What people did with the warning depended on their nature to do right or wrong.

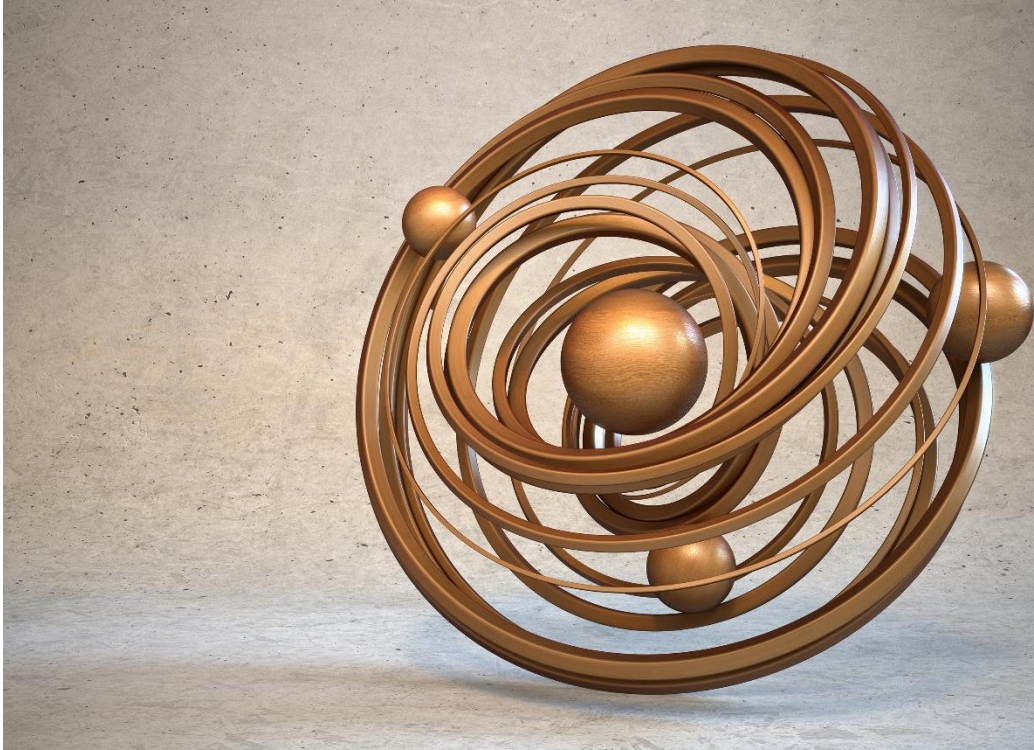

To become equipped time dimensionally, Jonah had to enter the third dimension to travel into the future for three days and three nights. Jonah, a Zebulunite belonging to the tribe of Zebulun, was a shipbuilder who used Noah's ship designs to construct the ships of salvation. Jesus modified the design of vessels as he traveled the world during his missing years before his public ministry. Jesus' design allows for faster and heavier cargo weight. Hence, he cut short the travel time of enslaved Judah from one continent to another.

Being compressed inside the third-dimensional capsule, Jonah saw the future. Whereas time compression is not unique to Jonah, it is the precondition to see and know the future; consider Noah. As in the case of Moses, he stayed in the cloud for forty days and forty nights. Generally, we understand the meaning of biblical clouds, a time-dimensional field in which one sees the past, present, and future at the same time. Jesus composed the third person when Moses and Elijah appeared on Mt. Transfiguration, validating his appointment in Gethsemane, where he validated his mission to the Earth. Peter, James, and John looked at the Transfiguration and panegyrically said: "It is good that we are here; permit us to build THREE tabernacles, one for you, Elijah, and Moses." The voice from the cloud stopped their irrelevant speech, affirming that the law and doctrine of faith are wrapped up in Jesus and that he alone is the voice of salvation.

Three + (one) the Father's voice, being in the cloud, Peter, James, and John could see and practice the unity of the past, present, and future required in the congregational Tabernacle. Punctuating the future, Jesus requested the three not to tell anyone until after his departure.

Another example is Daniel's three Associates, who were in a dimensional field wherein their work and achievements would serve as the biblical outline for Judah's end times guidance. $3 + 1 = 4$. Daniel comes as the fourth person appearing in the furnace, being the future, seeing the future in the last stage of the Babylonia Empire.

The rainbow symbolizes the LORD's planetary oath given to all living forms on the Earth: destruction by water will never happen again. On the other hand, the fiery furnace is the planetary oath that FIRE will consume in the latter days the ungodly when Michael stands up, a sign he is ready to clear the principalities from over the lands that the Ten Tribes and Judah will occupy. Archangel Michael will uphold his sworn oath at the Magistrate Court when he arrived to allow Gabriel to continue travel to Daniel after 21 days of legal proceedings.

Jonah emerges after three days and nights.

When Jonah emerged from the confined third dimension, his message possessed a fourth-dimensional reality, circumnavigating the world with the same message covering all governments to the present day. y.

- “So, Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city, of three days' journey.” Jonah 3:3

Jeremiah's Seventy-year prophecy appeared within the seven years, and so did the Man-child's conception and birth. Many milestone events occurred as they evolved toward the seven years, a new beginning in 2024.

The Solar eclipse of August 2017 marked the start of prophetic evolutionary events covering the following seven years.

The August 2017 solar eclipse appeared as a sign for the nation to start repenting. As it was generally known, the April 2024 solar eclipse was coming and would cross 2017 to form an X or Tah. Underlining the conceptual context of the solar eclipses, the constellation Cetus could be seen on the evening of August 21, 2017. Cetus is the whale constellation.

Unlike Jonah days, the August 21 solar eclipse (A21SC) subjected all Gentiles and the Congregation of Israel to repentance according to the causes and effects of the apocalyptic horses and Daniels Man Image Statute portraying the four Gentiles' social systems.

Consider the milestone events and their inter-relationships of evolved Maturity.

- (1) Jesus' date of birth is September 1.
- (2) Jesus' conception occurred in heaven, and the embryo was transplanted into the Earth through Mary.
- (3) The Man-child's conception followed twenty-three days afterward.
- (4) Likewise, the Man-child conception occurred on September 23, 2017, in the heaven per Revelation 12 and was transplanted on the Earth in the divine nursery under the guardianship of The Judahite.
- (5) In December 2017, the Court of Heaven anointed The Judahite prophetic jurisdiction over Israel as the certified remnant of Judah.
- (6) Since 2017, the unfulfilled Feast Days matured.
- (7) Jeremiah's seventy-year prophecy, since 2017, has continued to guide the evolving phases of the Babylonian fall and the transitioning of Judah's relocation to Israel. Jeremiah's book, thrown in the river Euphrates, should have been recovered by now. Still, biblical prophets have detailed end times aspects leading up to, during the fall, and post-destruction of Babylon and the land of the Chaldeans. Thus, there is nothing new whether the fall will occur.

- (8) Jesus re-asserts his mission to the tribes of Israel per his Mission Statement. Soundwave25 is the re-announcement of the Mission Statement by shattering a glass covering for a skillet near the area located by the Man-child's nursery.
- (9) On July 7, 2019, the LORD lifted Judah's 400-year jurisdictional restriction by Miraculously breaking a car towing chain in front of The Judahite.
- (10) In the same month and year, observance of Jubilee was reinstituted by a supernatural Sign of purchased milk flowing wherever The Judahite went throughout the city.
- (11) Through the Feast Day of Covenant, Shavuot/Pentecost, Abraham's date of birth of February 27, serves as the basis for the Congregation to claim 27 trillion dollars in equity and return on investment to be used after the fall of Babylon and destruction in the land of the Chaldeans.

Between the pivotal years of 2017 through 2024, a span of seven years, we witness the unfolding of prophecy, a period of significant evolution.

The above, (1) through (11), depicts an outline over the past seven years and the quantity of contents, though the above is partial.

The point: the solar eclipse of 2017 and 2024 mark the theoretical boundaries, noting prophetic evolutionary growth and maturity. So, against the backdrop of heavenly signs, the appropriate agenda is negation, birthing the new to overcome the old—for example, America's democracy vs. Judahtocracy. America's democracy is a political economy formula for capital, aiming to impoverish labor or the working class.

On March 26, 2024, the nation of America received a prophetic theoretical review when the Francis Scott Key bridge collapsed because a miraculous loss of electrical power on the Deli guided the ship to hit the bridge's support pillar, bringing down the bridge in seconds.

Immediately, millions of Americans understood the prophetic symbolism, projecting the imminent fall of America. Indeed, countless people took to the airwaves to express their interpretative meaning.

About 80% of the American population either knows the lyrics of the National Anthem or has heard the song of the Star Spangle Banner. Thus, the lyrics “ Still Standing Through the Night” to collapsing in the Night had an immediate psychological impact.

Background

As spectacular as the overnight fire power bombardment of Fort McHenry in Maryland by the British's naval ships, equally as heroic, the American patriots stood determined not to surrender to the British monarchy's imposition.

Not surrendering under the firepower bombardment for hours is a testament to the well-planned defense to withstand British naval firepower.

Witnessing the overnight battle between British and American military forces on September 13, 1814, Francis Scott Key composed his epic poem, which later was adopted as the American National Anthem: the Star Spangle Banner.

Undoubtedly, the refusal of Fort McHenry to surrender, despite the intense military attacks, was a significant psychological victory. This spirit of resilience would permeate America's national psyche, fostering a steadfastness in the face of adversity. Thus, it was a triumph for colonial military defense and evolving national identity.

On the other hand, the Battle of New Orleans on January 15, 1815, still part of the War of 1812, birthed a different nationalistic spirit, offering inspirational hope for a better tomorrow for the dispossessed.

Overall, the War of 1812 marks the regression of the British Colonial Empire and the rise of America's imperialism by conquering all the lands West and East of the Mississippi River that belonged to the tribes of Israel. Indeed, during Joesph's reign over the Egyptian global empire three thousand years ago he transplanted tribes of Israel into today's Mexico and Western America.

The War of 1812 and The decisive counter-offensive

The British regrouped and strategized to control its former American colony by capturing port trading cities in the South, i.e., Mobile, Alabama and New Orleans. It was a winnable strategy because the enslaved people and the Southern tribes of Israel, Native Americans supported the British.

General Andrew Jackson, a figure synonymous with American imperialism, offered a beacon of hope to the southern tribes of Israel, enslaved Judah, and poor whites. He promised to incorporate them into the American states with full rights and privileges if they would pledge allegiance to him as the Southern General American Forces. This promise, filled with potential, spurred them to force a British retreat.

Once again, Jackson demonstrated his disregard for treaty law, a pattern that was becoming all too familiar. Despite his awareness and understanding of the constitutional grounds for enforcing the promissory declaration of full citizenship with rights. Legal deception is one of the tenets of imperialism.

As a result of Jackson's action, territorial lands were transformed into states, the America we know today. America became a superhighway for immigrants coming from all parts of the world.

Being delighted with the outcome of his motivational promise, Jackson sent people to Texas to claim land from Mexico. General Jackson always had a grand view of America and when he became President, he worked systematically to bring Texas into the Union. Known only to a few people, Jackson planned for Texas to join the Union in a two-step legal procedure. Plant many Americans in Texas via homesteading. As president, Jackson recognized Texas as a territory, using the same model to create the state of Alabama. Knowing Mexico would go to war and be defeated. Texas would be eligible to become part of the Union. Again, Jackson's plans came out victoriously. In short, the Texas Revolution and the war with Mexico.

Contrary to popular belief, Fort McHenry, in the larger context of America's imperialism is a mere footnote. In a surprising twist, covertly, Jackson supported the international bankers out of London operations in America.

After the War of 1812, Nat Turner, the Asherite, came upon the stage of history at the same time as the seventh U.S. President Andrew Jackson. The LORD appointed tribal Asher as the biblical administrator by illustrating the country's life cycle in its formative years. Nat Turner was no exception. The Ten Tribes and Judah would drive America's destiny.

At the start of the American Civil War, a few outstanding Union generals knew from the outset that the North would not win the War without enlisting enslaved Judah into the Union Army. However, it took the President years to realize the necessity, and as such, Judah was promised forty acres and a mule to enlist in the Union Army and, again, failed promises. Though a setback for one hundred years after the War, the U.S. Constitution and the new constitutional amendments enable Judah to progress one step at a time.

The breakthrough came when Judah crossed the Edmond Pettus Bridge to obtain the constitutional tool, the right to vote, to effect self-serving legislation for self-improvement.

Being in youth, Elohim gave The Judahite an epiphany on the bridge of an extraordinary occurrence of faith in a better tomorrow.

Indeed, the Israelites passed over the Alabama River in 1965, going to Montgomery, where Andrew Jackson and the tribal Chief of Manasseh signed the treaty of surrender, turning the territory over to Jackson, who initiated the Trail of Tears leading from present-day Marion County, Alabama, to Oklahoma.

- *In that day there shall be an altar of the Lord in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a monument of the Lord at the borders thereof:
“And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry unto the LORD because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a saviour, and a defender, and he shall deliver them.” Isaiah 19:19-20*

Manasseh and other tribes crossed the Alabama River to form the Trail of Tears to Oklahoma. Indeed, it is painful but necessary to create “the altar in the midst of the land of Egypt.”

Judah had constructed “the monument at the border” over a hundred years earlier, the U.S. Capitol. With the right to vote and knowing who to vote for, the Israelites’ living conditions stood an excellent chance to improve. According to Isaiah, the right to vote and who to vote for automatically came with a statutory commitment to assist in improving the lives of others and sharing the Scriptures with others.

The Francis Scott Key Bridge symbolizes America's strong global defense in commerce. Millions of Americans continue to pay homage to American veterans and soldiers as the living defense of the nation to continue a strong economy in trade with other countries. The British sought to restrict American trade with Canada, as such trade would have led to cutting Britain out of the trade relations.

PART II

APRIL 8

Avoid Aimless wandering, The Ten Tribes of Israel and Judah have prophetic guideposts To follow.

Each month, new views, theories, interpretations of the Scriptures, and twisted commentaries on how current events match biblical prophecies emerge. To protect against potential misguidance, The Judahite has consistently emphasized his website primarily for the esteemed Congregation of Israel, although it remains open to all. This exclusivity underscores the importance of the Congregation's role in studying the presentation and seeking the Holy Spirit for greater clarity.

Some individuals claim to be Israelites; on the one hand, they are not automatically granted membership in the Congregation of Israel. On the other hand, The Judahite consistently underscores the necessity of personal reflection and prayer in discerning one's tribal affiliation, which serves as the gateway for numerous blessings, including proper relations in marriages.

More than historical conditions are sufficient qualifications to determine tribal membership in Judah and the Ten Tribes of Israel. Biologically, each Israelite already has the embedded genes of tribal association; only the Holy Spirit can switch to activate the genes of consciousness. Only prayer and fasting will turn the switch on. However, many Gentiles carry the genes of righteousness and are considered members of the Tabernacle.

Judah, Reuben, Gad, Asher Naphtali, Manasseh, Simeon, Levi, Issachar , Zebulun, Joseph, Benjamin

The theoretical meaning of the April 2024 solar eclipse intersected with the August 2017 solar eclipse.

X (TAV), the Hebrew Alphabet with a numeric value of four hundred is not just a letter but profound symbol of truth and completion, a testament to the depth and richness of our faith.

April 8 has passed, yet the theories and speculations have passed in thin air. The Judahite took a four-hour nap on April 8, knowing there would be no ground-shaking occurrences. The Judahite discussed the Congregational developmental doctrinal maturity with TAV in previous presentations. Let's take one step at a time as we walk forward.

Without question, the solar eclipse psychologically impacted tens of millions of people, putting them in the mode of looking up. Theoretically, Luke 21:25-37 is appropriate.

- "But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your head, because your redemption is at hand." Luke 21:28

Often misinterpreted, Jesus says in Luke to watch the signs in the sun and moon and the spring signs of the season. Thus, the given signs to watch for don't imply his actual arrival in person, though the Congregation of Israel's redemption is getting closer and closer.

Weather conditions

After the solar eclipse moved past Dallas, Texas, bad weather covered the South. As it moved outside the USA into Canada, bad weather covered the country for four days—for example, hail storms, tornados, and flooding of record numbers. The storms knocked out power to many homes in many places, and TV signals went offline. Everywhere as a result of lousy weather, property damage, and the loss of life. Many people who once had houses are now homeless.

Strikingly similar encounters with weather-related phenomena punctuated Jonah's life. Stepping outside the confines of the city to observe the fate of Nineveh, he found himself in a situation dictated by the LORD's conditional declaration. In preparation for this, Johah hastily constructed a booth, a rudimentary shelter, to bear witness to the impending wrath of God.

In a supernatural way that brought Jonah to Nineveh, likewise in a miraculous way, God gave Jonah an illustrative rationale for staying his judgment. Now, consider that Jonah constructed a booth to block the sun's rays from beating down on him. By night, the LORD sent a "vehement east wind," causing Jonah to suffocate and pass out. Moreover, just as the gourd grew up miraculously at night, it perished in the night in like manner. Jonah was displeased because the plant gave him comfort; thus, his concern centered more on the dead gourd, which he neither planted nor cultivated using water, than on the souls he saved or could have saved. Under the oppression of heat, Jonah wanted to die.

In conclusion, Jonah's actions and message were in tandem. August 2017 Cetus constellation fortfold of Nineveh part II with the conclusion in April of 2024.

April 8, 2024, solar eclipse leaves us with
The theoretical concept of THREE

The dictionary defines 3: “the cardinal number that is the sum of two and one and is a prime number.” Look, $2+1=3$.

The atom. Protons, neutrons, and electrons are subatomic particles of an atom. Look, three again.

Day three of creation, look at 3, land, water, and vegetation came into existence. For example, fruits, trees, and plants of their seeds.

Geometry is defined: “Mathematics. any specific system of the branch of mathematics describing points, lines, angles, and figures in space, that operates in accordance with a specific set of assumptions.”

Cube is defined: “a solid bounded by six equal squares, the angle between any two adjacent faces being a right angle.”

Measurement. Look, 3, length, width, and height.

3

Theoretical Application of the number three.

3= Solid and what is Real,
Nothing intangible.

First, the rule for measuring a solid is determining the width, height, and length. Three, therefore, represents what is real and solid—God’s divine symbolic manifestation of perfection. Three and seven possess perfection. Three and seven are the most commonly used numbers in the Scriptures. As a workable concept, three symbolizes resurrection and a new beginning.

Applications

1. The cycle of time. Past, present, and future.
2. Abraham saw three angels in the land of mamer of whom he invited to diner.
3. God’s sanctuary is in the cube shape.
4. Numbers 6:24-25 the LORD commanded Moses and Arron to give the three-fold blessing to the Congregation:
 - a. “the LORD bless thee and keep thee (Father)
 - b. the Lord make His face shine upon thee and be gracious unto thee; (Son)
 - c. the Lord lift up His countenance upon thee and give thee peace.” (Holy Spirit)
5. Daniel kneeled three times a day to pray facing Jerusalem.
6. Jesus public ministry lasted three years.
7. Tempted by the Devil, Jesuse said three times “It is written.”
8. The Father’s voice from heaven heard three times.
 - d. At the Jordan river during Jesus’ baptism (Matt. 3:17)
 - e. Before Peter, James, and John on Mt. transfiguration (Luke 9:35)
 - f. Jesus’ closing hours of his ministry on earth. James 12:28
9. Jesus’ power over death seen three times: Jairus daughter, a widow son in the town of Nain, and Lazarus.

10. Peter received the same vision three times about heaven opening to lower a sheet of unclean animals and fowls for Peter to kill and eat. By custom, Peter rejected the meat as he followed his custom not to eat unclean meat. The LORD said that which has descended from heaven is clean. (Acts 10:16). As a historical note, Peter more than other disciples encountered three's in his ministry. Hence, upon this rock, Peter, I will build my church.
11. Lust of the flesh, the eyes, and pride are the three opposing spirits to the love of the Father. 1 John 1:16
12. A perfect cube manifests in Revelation 21:16.

OUTCOMES

On April 8, The Judahite received features from the Court of Heaven for administrative guidelines. Biblical three came as an integral component of the features.

ONE

The concept of cleanliness is one feature. The court has mandated the removal of disgraced social and spiritual behavior from the transitional process to the Promised Land and all lands acquired by statutes.

Mark 6:7 drives the mandate.

- “And He called the twelve to Himself, and began to send them out two by two, and gave them power over unclean spirits.”

Luke 9:1 accounts for the mandate

- “Then Jesus called the Twelve together and gave them power and authority over all demons, and power to cure diseases.”

Matthew 10:1 accounts for the mandate, as two's stand as witnesses to the coming of Jesus.

- “...AND having called his twelve disciples together, he gave them power over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of diseases, and all manner of Infirmities.”

Power and authority over unclean spirits.

Having authority over unclean spirits means there is no basis for compromising with the devil. Often is the case, there are pretenders who think they have authority over unclean spirits and thus they seek to accommodate them. 1 Thessalonians 2:12 gives us a critical eye for sorting out who walk the walk of worthiness to be called the washer, who totally rejects any grounds for making peace with spiritual immorality.

- For we also received the good news just as they did; but the message they heard was of no value to them, since they did not share the faith of those who comprehended it. Hebrew 4:2

Having a critical eye

- We testified to every one of you, that you would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory. 1 Thess. 2:12

- Therefore, we also give thanks to God without ceasing because, that when you had received of us the word of the hearing of God, you received it not as the word of men, but (as it is indeed) the word of God, who worketh in you that have believed. 1 Thess. 2:13

Fulness

“Until we all meet into the unity of faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the age of the fulness of Christ; Eph. 4:13
That henceforth we be no more children tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine by the wickedness of men, by cunning craftiness, by which they lie in wait to deceive.”
Eph. 4:14
