

The Babylonia Mystery of Seventy Years, Timing for ending restrictions and Returning home.

Jeremiah's prophetic Seventy years run concurrently. One coin with two sides. Seraiah, the Priest, read the Euphrates Announcement of Babylon's Fall at seventy years. At seventy years, Judah would extricate himself from the legal system of Babylon's authority through prophetic jurisdictional certification of Zion's land claim. December 6, 2017, proclaimed jurisdictional certification.

To avoid Daniel's confusion over Jeremiah's Seventy-year prophecy, we can see the Seventy-year forecast running concurrently. At the same time, Judah's restraints started their removal processes systematically in 2017, while the Ten Tribes had to wait until after Babylon reached its seventh year in 2022.

When prophetic milestone events appear, it is time to readjust notions, thinking, and concepts.

The Judahite received from the Court of Heaven the appointed day of September 10, a week in advance, to exercise preparatory precepts given during the day for the coming hour of "great testimonies" from replantation recipients.

Now ten days after Yeshua's birthday, we come to a milestone that complements the coming Man-child's birthday mission.

September 9 falls within the purview of Yeshua's Mission Statement that offers a special tenth day celebration.

On September 9, supernatural sleep fell upon The Judahite, sometimes after 1pm. Before losing consciousness to the blackness of existence, The Judahite asked about the deep sleep meaning because, at hand, nothing on the day's agenda would suggest a delay.

Knowing from biblical accounts, deep sleep doesn't always mean a delay. Within context, if the meaning is not clear going into a deep sleep, certainly, the meaning should be clear coming out of the sleep.

When The Judahite awoke, he learned of Queen Elizabeth II's death at Balmoral. Surprised, she looked to be doing well, just days before, greeting her new PM.

Looking for more details about her death, The Judahite learned two rainbows appeared over Buckingham Palace. The Judahite was terror-stricken because the implications were immediately known.

Immediately after the Queen's death, the rainbow in the above photo appeared. Is God alive?

The people of London saw the rainbows, though some were confused and floated different meanings, such as a sign of hope.

Herein is the correct interpretative meaning.
A Great Shaking is Coming.

The Queen died in Scotland, where King James VI of Scotland ruled before becoming King James I of England.

King James Stuart belongs to the tribe of Asher and is responsible for commissioning the King James Version of the Bible, which is the most read Bible worldwide.

The Judahite asserts nothing personally against the Queen and King. However, often misunderstood, personalities come and go within social systems and national governments. So, to avoid a limited view of history, characters should be judged by their functional roles by voting or in civic protests for new policies.

Because of Queen Elizabeth II death and place of death, The Judahite presents background information on the Royals of Europe. The Royals of Europe guard their bloodlines. Admittedly, studying European history can make one's head swim day and night.

Understanding the legal mechanics of how a royal family member of a national state can become the king of a different state—implying no jurisdictional restrictions on who can become the monarch—can be challenging for the outsider.

MAKING SENSE OF EUROPEAN HISTORY

Part One

From the perspective of the Asherite, we come to know the general thrust of history.

Western European civilization is much younger compared to the civilizations of Eastern Europe and Western Asia or the Middle East.

Often people who are subjectively attached to a past glorious culture and civilization make efforts to resuscitate in some form or fashion aspects without understanding the basic building blocks to sustain civilization. While it is true, most of the kingdoms and clans of Europe were barbarians, Europe's civilizations took shape and form driven by Muslim/Koran; Jews/Babylonian Talmud; the Edomites' Holy Roman Empire/Catholicism; Orthodox Eastern Christianity/ in line with the Apostle Age; Protestantism/resting on the New Testament of Jesus.

The major Religions and their Camps in European wars.

1. The Islamic Caliphates fought wars as a missionary strategy forcing the Koran on the weak and helpless as done in Africa, Constantinople, and other places.
2. Imperial Rome sought to Romanized Central and Western Europe by fighting the barbarians to bring an elevated stage of civilization to them without being religiously dogmatic. Rome tolerated all religions. Imperial Rome colonized regions in Central and Western Europe for economic reasons. However, once Imperial Rome came to its destined end, the Holy Roman Empire emerged by default and had much more success of governing the barbarians. Taking a long-range view, the barbarians converted to Romanism.
3. Constantinople, the Byzantine Christian Empire, took a defensive position and received spiritual knowledge to developed advance military technologies in self-defense, which correlates to contractual law and enforcing the laws. Being a non-aggressive country with the advanced military weapons worked. The best minds around the world sought to emulate the cultural standards of the city-state. In contrast, criminals from different parts of the world always made countless attempts to overrun Constantinople with the aim of destroying advance knowledge that would have resulted in pushing people into a helpless state of poverty.

It is easy to destroy the works and knowledge that took hundreds of years to achieve within weeks. Barbarians will always possess contempt for higher forms of knowledge to evolve civilization, for they like the fruits of advance culture, yet they hate the social organizations that make possible the useful products to make daily life easier.

Knowledge eventually defeats ignorant. For merchants of the world who possessed a developmental mentality of fairness had peace of mind when signing agreements according to Constantinople's trade contracts law, knowing with confidence of impartiality in dispute resolution.

The Christian Byzantine Empire lasted longer than Imperial Rome and today, the Constantinople's principles of Maritime Law still govern contract disputes.

Eusebius

emerged as the architect of the Church Age and the Byzantine Empire

Bishop Eusebius acted as co-regency with Emperor Constantine and should be regarded as the architect of the Byzantine Empire, which lasted over eleven hundred years. Additionally, he should be regarded as the father of the Church Age as he made a core set of doctrinal beliefs that all church leaders signed off on, and we embrace each Sunday by confessing the Apostle Creed.

For the stability of the Eastern Roman Empire, Christians united around the core doctrinal issue necessary to ensure the Empire's longevity. Once Eusebius submitted the final version to Constantine, it became law. If any church leader stood in violation, he was either imprisoned or put to death. We can assume automatically that Eusebius did not forget the Christians who were feed to beasts for Rome's entertainment, covering hundreds of years because Rome feared the Christians due to false representations from the Jews.

Asher's Co-Regency

Eusebius sanctioned the Church and State relation as seen in his relationship with Emperor Constantine.

As the foundational cornerstone of the Byzantine Empire, Eusebius incorporated Christian morals within governmental policies becoming architectural policies of administration. Like then and now, maritime law governs commercial trade worldwide, permitting trade to flourish.

Truly, trade with North America silver mining from the region of the current day Tombigbee River of Alabama came under the protection of Byzantine's international law.

Consider the jurisdiction under international law. A lawsuit can be filed in America by non-Americans if a trade dispute arises at any place in the world between parties of any nationality.

King James VI of Scotland and King James I of England Co-regency, Affinity to Maritime Law

Like Eusebius, King James I is a tribal member of Asher. Maritime Law paved the way for England to become the superpower of the oceans and trade.

Whereas Eusebius' framework allowed maritime trade to develop into international law, a body of Maritime Law, King James I proceeded from maritime trade law to establish a naval power. When considering Europeans' colonization of the planet without trucks and no airplanes, then, at once, Maritime Law played and plays protecting cargo transport the cargo by boats and ships.

Eusebius's administrative mission inwardly oriented toward the Church Age through a strong economic base that expanded the Byzantine Empire, premised self-defense, not seeking to conquer nations. In distinction, the British Empire, outwardly oriented, erected its Empire on the oceans traveling in search of tradable resources. Maritime Law incorporated chattel slavery as property. Eusebius knew biblical history and incorporated Judah as chattel slavery that also included members of the ten tribes from one part of the world to the next.

King James I of England made it happen. Jamestown, Virginia anchors King James I to the rise of the American Empire. Judah arrived in Jamestown, Virginia, on August 20, 1619, "on board the English privateer ship White Lion."

Slavery existed in the colonies before 1619. However, the chain of prophetic historical events took the right course after King James I ascension to power. He reorganized the Jamestown colony allowing for Judah's arrival; after that trade took off, making American colonies the most profitable in the British Empire.

As a judicial mandate from the Second Heaven,
Asher must share Co-regency of national Governments.

Just as Eusebius of the Byzantine Empire gave Maritime Law to King James I of England, Jamestown would transfer the judicial mandate to the Asherite Nat Turner.

Nat Turner combined the contributions of the previous Asherites and built upon them to launch the American Empire, the greatest empire of all.

Turner prototyped oil extraction of oil industry and went on to prototype the military, the Pentagon, serving to protect the energy industries. Look at the millions of ships in the oceans, seas, lakes, and rivers 24/7 governed by Maritime Law. Oil and natural energy drive the world's economic systems.

Turner comes into the equation of Co-regency with President Andrew Jackson, the father of American imperialism. Jackson was the mastermind behind bringing Texas into the Union as a slave state. However, Nat gave the illustrative model of imperialism in deconstructing and reconstructing his body into items of utility. Black oil enables the world to run. Consider black oil usages: the automobile industry and petroleum to make them run. Additionally, agricultural mobile equipment, mining equipment, and the aviation industry, all run on petroleum. Oil runs the world.

Judah and the Rise of imperialism

Turner placed Judah in Texas to interface with the Middle East where tribal members of Judah prepared receptivity of making that region the first oil kingdom.

MAKING SENSE OF EUROPEAN HISTORY

Part Two

Whereas The Judahite announces biblical judgments against governments and social systems, the announcements are never personal because they are biblically prescribed.

Still, The Judahite sees the Queen's death in the larger picture of historical events unfolding according to biblical prophecy. On point, The Judahite's sleep symbolically marks the period of Judah's inactivity or passive state of consciousness, though now awakened to a new tomorrow as foretold.

neo-Biblical Babylonians

The fall of neo-biblical Babylonians is on the same timeline as the awakening of Judah. As foretold by Jeremiah and restated by John of Revelation, the Babylonian system will never become rejuvenated.

Jeremiah wrote his book as instructed by the LORD about the fall of neo-Biblical Babylonians. He ordered Seraiah, the priest, to read the Euphrates Announcement of Babylon's Fall at seventy years as he walked toward the Babylonian city, but not within the city's limits noting the significance of the future Babylon. After reading his book, Seraiah used a string to tie the book with a stone, cast it into the Euphrates and deliver the following words as prophetic condemnation.

- "And thou shalt say: Thus, shall Babylon sink, and she shall not rise up from the affliction that I will bring upon her, and she shall be utterly destroyed." Jeremiah 51:64

Historical facts

History has no record of Babylon's destruction by military attacks after Daniel moved to Susa.

After Daniel exited the lion's den, he and his three executive managers prepared for the wealth transition to the Persian Empire's capital city. Without commerce, Babylon faded away in time, giving us clear sight of our current day neo-Biblical Babylonian.

Under Queen Esther, the Persian Empire worked on its pre-destinated confrontation with the Grecian Empire headed by Alexander the Great.

Coherency in Biblical prophecies.

First, Jeremiah's Seventy-year prophecy is tied to the fall of neo-Biblical Babylonians. Daniel was confused about Jeremiah's Seventy-year prophecy because the details did not fit his timeline. Therefore, Daniel prayed for understanding, and Gabriel came to give him the skills to understand Jeremiah's prophecy better.

The year 2017 came as the Seventy-year expiration date for Judah to make preparation for departure. Indeed, 2017 saw the necessary theological events enabling a long transitional period of maturity—the birth of the Man-child.

Still, the question before us, what country represents Babylon. The Judahite has discussed that topic in different presentations. Briefly, Britain/England constitutes Babylon's political character. Yet, Britain's interlocking relations include the U.S. of America, (the Chaldeans), and with the Vatican—the Holy Roman Empire.

On the banking level, the City of London is the international banking center of capitalism. The City of London like Washington, D.C., and the Vatican City are city-states unto themselves—sovereign states.

U.S.A. and Beijing are two major representatives of imperialistic financed capitalism and stand in contrast to neo-Biblical Babylonian, yet there are interconnections.

Because confusion exists, John of Revelation termed the interlocking relationship as Mystery Babylon, a composites of shared interests.

MAKING SENSE OF EUROPEAN HISTORY

Part three

Certifying the right timeline of history

It is always comforting to learn of one's correct place on the timeline of history. For the 144k and Firstfruits, we express a deep appreciation to the Elohim for having written history thousands in advance.

We praise God for making known to all on the earth what the future would look like during the pre-arrival of Jesus and after his ascension and during the period of his second coming. No one can say, I did not know. Naturally, good news comes with the bad.

Euphrates Announcement of Babylon's Fall

The Second Heaven validated the correct timeline of history. The Judahite took a nap and awoke with a carpet rug saturated with water. Euphrates water announcing the concurrent running of Judah rising and Babylon's falling.

Supernaturally the rug signified the remnant of Judah back in 2014. (The whole year cannot be nailed down. Either 2014 or 2015, wherein the visitation occurred. Still, the historic moment should not be missed, as the years leading up to 2017 prequalify the engines that would drive unfolding events of 2017 and subsequent events.

Before going further, we must reexamine Jeremiah's words closely:

- Use a string to tie the book with a stone, cast it into the Euphrates, and deliver the following words as prophetic condemnation. "And thou shalt say: Thus, shall Babylon

sink, and she shall not rise up from the affliction that I will bring upon her, and she shall be utterly destroyed.” Jeremiah 51:64

The 144k should not have unnecessary questions about the Euphrates River preserving Jeremiah’s book. The Judahite’s nap and the supernatural saturated rug symbolic of the Holy Spirit retrieving Jeremiah’s book from the Euphrates.

Delineating the time sequence between the two Seventy years judgments.

Jeremiah gives us statutory contents and policies to institutes upon returning home to Israel. Jeremiah is among other biblical prophets to offer statutory contents and procedures to be instituted.

The overriding priority for the returning exiles, the Temple Reconstruction. We look to Haggai to shepherd us through the dynamics of Reconstruction.

The supernatural saturated rug symbolizes the Holy Spirit retrieving Jeremiah’s book from the Euphrates.

Haggai

<sup>2:21</sup> Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth; <sup>2:22</sup> And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, everyone by the sword of his brother. <sup>2:23</sup> In that day, saith the LORD

<sup>2:23</sup> In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the LORD, and will make thee as a signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

The Signet

In 2014, The Judahite supernaturally received the signet in the palm of his right hand from the Court of the Second Heaven for use at the Seventy year when Babylon falls. Indeed, The Judahite is Zerubbabel in the time of returning to Zion for reconstruction.

Jeremiah has his Seventy years covered from coming to going. Look, Seraiah going into Babylon, Zerubbabel leaving Babylon.

MAKING SENSE OF EUROPEAN ROYALS

PART FOUR

As a short outline, the focus is on Japheth's evolutionary development.

- i. Noah begat three sons Shem, Ham, and Japheth (Gene 6:8)
- ii. God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth. (Genesis 9:1)
- iii. God established his covenant with Noah and his sons. (Gene 9:8-9)
- iv. The curse of Canaan, Ham's son. (Gene 9:24)
- v. Building the city and tower of Babel gave rise to the gathering of tribal nations to declare disobedience to the LORD's Directive to spread worldwide and enjoy the land's bounty.
- vi. After disobedience reached a particular stage in tower construction, dialects, and languages, acting as a virus of disobedience, drove tribal nations in all directions around the world.
- vii. Turning Europe white. Noah had albinism, symbolic of light in the world of spiritual darkness. Because of geographic and environmental conditions, there will always be cultural differences—nothing to imply neither good nor bad, just different. Because of the variety of natural colors, people likewise come in various skin shades. In the coming age, different skin colors will once again become neutral, a mindset without attaching social valuation to color. Like everything else in the natural world of diversity, colors stimulate the mind; therefore, different varieties of color are suitable.
- viii. “God shall enlarge Japheth, and he shall dwell in the tents of Shem; and Canaan shall be his servant.” Gen 9:27.

Consider the relations among the brothers. First, Ham's son Cush established the first post-flood empire. Later Shem, through Jacob, established his kingdom—the Promised Land/Israel. Japheth, the youngest brother, drew upon the achievements of his older brothers. Yet, Japheth is mandated to live in and around Shem's descendants or embrace policies of Shem's descendants. As a pattern, descendants of each brother wanted to exercise their blessings, which means separation from each other for enjoyment.

Primarily, European wars were fought for the same reasons in other regions. Although for Japheth, he was motivated to fight with a spiritualized component to find his identity because psychologically, he had to reach a matured stage of spiritual development to dwell at the highest levels in Shem's spiritual civilizations.

- ix. Represented by the Holy Roman Church, the Edomites came into their identity after the fall of Imperial Rome and modeled their organizational behavior after the Byzantine Empire, but always stood in political opposition to the Asherites.

- x. After Japheth matured in scriptural doctrine, he arose against Holy Rome. Finally, he could assert his spiritual maturity in the doctrinal Justification by Faith through the New Testament—rejecting the Pope’s claim to be the substitution for Christ. Yeshua did not appoint a vicar. The Apostle Age is a tradition in the Church Age. We have John’s seven letters to the seven churches given by Christ and dictated by John. Thus, Yeshua did not nominate a vicar.
- xi. The Jews embrace the Babylonian Talmud with a heavy overlay of the first five books of the Bible. In contrast, Judah and the Ten Tribes of Israel claim the entire Bible and do not see the Old versus the New Testaments but as complementary to each other.
- xii. Japheth’s Protestant Movement fought to separate the union of the church from the state; thus, Protestant countries allowed all forms of religious expression through biblical principles. For example, Gomer, the Germans, established his faith-based religion around the Lutherans.
- xiii. The Pope used Rome as the Catholic Church’s capital city. However, the Pope had regional offices in Germany and France that had a substantial revenue base to support the churches’ operational costs.

Slowly but surely, conflictual differences emerged among the three brothers’ descendants that took on a religious character, but in fact, the nature of the conflict involved monetary resources. The Edomites Catholics established a beachhead in Spain exclusively as a Catholic country when Ferdinand II and Isabella I married and united their kingdoms of Aragon and Castile. A marriage that aided in the consolidation of one unified religion became a model for Esau or the Edomites. Pope Sixtus IV issued the papal bull in 1478 authorizing the Spanish Inquisition, purging those tendencies of anti-Catholicism. The Inquisitions went on for five hundred years, claiming over an estimated Fifty million lives. The Edomites knew their historical destiny and acted accordingly. A bright spot in the Inquisitions was principle clarification. If you don’t like or understand any doctrine of religion personally deemed good or bad, don’t join the body to espouse disruptive opinions.

- As known, Europe hosted many heathenistic customs, and Holy Rome promoted a pantheon of religious deities.
- xiv. 30 Years War between Lutherans and Catholics, on the one hand, and Protestants vs. Catholics, on the other hand, claimed over eleven million lives. On balance, Japheth acquired his matured spiritual identity through the Reformation that led to the Thirty Years War. Martin Luther’s translated the New Testament from Latin to German.
- xv. The failed Gunpowder Plot’s aim to kill King James I and the entire parliament is another case of definitional separation of economic spheres among the Edomites, Danites, and the Japhethites.

- xvi. It is safe to say that many European Monarchs belong to the tribal family of Japheth.
- xvii. England inherited Catholicism and Protestantism. As such, some English monarchs favored the Pope while others did not.
- xviii. The Canaanites. History often confines the Canaanites to the land of Israel, a biblical omission as the Canaanites were scattered along the Mediterranean and other parts of the world.
- xix. Thus, the Canaanites are very much of European history. However, Joseph's seven years of global famine brought some of the Canaanites into the Promised Land, and they were eventually driven out during the conquest.

Now, in Conspectus

Jeremiah's Seventy-year prophecy inclusively covers Judah's judicial standing to invoke statutory authority, as seen with the carpet rug movement on December 6, 2017, signifying the remnant of Judah has standing to invoke attributive circumstances for Mystery Babylon's fall.

Jeremiah's Seventy years prophecy runs concurrently in two applications. Queen Elizabeth II reigned for seventy years.

On February 6, 2022, Her Majesty The Queen celebrated Platinum Jubilee, marking 70 years of political service to the United Kingdom.

The Judahite was living in London during Her Majesty The Queen's celebration of her Golden Jubilee, marking 50 years of political service to the United Kingdom. What a festival to see, her subjects parading before her from all parts of the world!

Seventy is a prophetic number. Let's use arithmetic skills to validate Babylon's fall at seventy years (in 2022).

Being on location to witness the Golden Jubilee, The Judahite adds  $50 + 20 = 70$  years, which marks the timing of Babylon's fall.

In contrast, the Congregation of Israel's Jubilee second count cycle started in 2020. Mixed and matched, the numbers come out to seventy years for the vibrant life of Mystery Babylon. It is so named because of the interlocking relationships with the other city-states or the two sovereign states.

The Congregation's Jubilee is a push cycle. In comparison, England is a pull system that accommodates the interest of her allies to extract wealth for the class of the global elite.

Jeremiah serves as a puzzle for understanding the ending of Babylon's Seventy years reign and Judah's Seventy years.

There is some speculation on where and how Jeremiah die. Based on the biblical accounts, the Judean military rebels forced Jeremiah to go to Egypt after they rejected his option to stay in Judea and live, not to fear King Nebuchadnezzar because he appointed Gedaliah to govern Judea and promised sanctuary to the non-captured. Jeremiah told them that if they went to Egypt death would come to them, and Egypt would be destroyed.

Irrationality took over. The rebels were under the hope of self-made-believe because they embraced the Queen of Heaven.

Yet, they epitomized why God sent destruction upon the land of Judea.

Looking ahead to AD 68, many Jews made the same mistake by fighting a losing battle with the Romans. They misread the times because they did not believe in Jesus, yet held false expectations of God's intervention as in the old days.

Once in Egypt, the Elohim issued his decree: some would die of diseases, starvation, and war. Regarding the Egyptians, the King took some as prisoners, and all the others were killed during the war. And some Judeans, as refugees, lived to return to Judea in time.

When King Nebuchadnezzar came down on Egypt, he destroyed many cities, burned all monuments to the Egyptian gods, took away all the food, and burned all trees in and around Egypt, resulting in a lack of life for over forty years.

Jeremiah certified the Starting and ending dates of his Seventy years prophecies.

Based on creditable detailed conditions, The Judahite offers his opinion and facts on the seventy years timeline on which Babylon falls.

After the fall of Egypt, Jeremiah told the King who killed Gedaliah, his governor of Judah. Also, the military rebels forced all Judeans to come to Egypt, leaving no one in the land. King Nebuchadnezzar reaffirmed his decree to Jeremiah to go and live anywhere.

Jeremiah petitioned the King for resources to do his missionary work

Jeremiah embraced many Egyptians who came to him for protection during the war and took them to the territory of France, where he established a colony and hid priceless treasures and treasure maps. Additionally, he founded a colony in Scotland, where it can be assumed Jeremiah made a few trips to Jerusalem to removed prized treasures and place them in selected locations.

The daughters of King Zedekiah were part of the colonies. They got married and continued the royal tradition. French, Scotland, and English monarchs trace their royal traditions to Judah via Zedekiah's daughters. As to what countries the daughters first established their homes in is conjecture. However, it can be inferred from marriages that the daughters' descendants moved to different countries in unions to create a royal presence, reuniting Israel's Northern and Southern Kingdoms de facto.

It is highly doubtful that the daughters married outside the tribes of Israel. A point to remember: the Ten Tribes of Israel were transnational, here and there and everywhere!

Since Jeremiah had resources to travel, he went to the territory of England and Scotland, where he left steppingstones, the pathways, for Mystery Babylon to reach her seventy years destiny. Jeremiah hid a marker in Scotland to authenticate his predictions for The Judahite. As a puzzle among four pieces, The Judahite arranged them and got the complete picture of authentication.

It is unknown how many years Jeremiah lived; however, with 100% certainty, the remaining years of his life were spent hiding and securing Zion's assets already sealed at different locations under Temple's tunnel systems.

Look, Jeremiah had a two-fold mission. One to relocate Zion's assets in different places to aid in the rise of the new Egypt and Mystery Babylon. Two. He worked on securing the locations where he placed the treasures. He worked out a system for where the treasures would be found.

After Jesus' ascension, Mary Magdalene, Jesus' mother Mary, and others visited the southern part of France, doing missionary work. They could have traveled to Scotland. Yes, it can be assumed that the colony had grown into villages and small towns over hundreds of years. And that the people made trips to Jerusalem as required by law after the Babylonian exiles rebuilt the Temple. Moreover, after leaving Europe, Mary's delegation went to Ethiopia for missionary work and onward to Asia Minor to join Apostle's John ministry.

With certainty, Jeremiah visited England and Scotland, where he noted in his treasure maps where Roselyn Temple would be built.

No question, Jeremiah prophetically traveled to mark off the region to indicate where one of the pillars would be at the time of Babylonian's fall at seventy years.

Jeremiah's assigned mission is not to bring good news to anyone. Yet, he proclaimed Judah and Israel would receive a renewed promise of restoration at the end of the second seventy years.

His death. Robust evidence suggests Jeremiah died in Judea.

Conclusionary validations.

1. Tribal Dan found Jeremiah's treasure maps, after which he formed the Knights Templars, went to Jerusalem, and dug for ten years in search of Solomon's treasures. Later, the Knights changed names and began the Jesuits. The snake is Dan's insignia. For hundreds of years, Dan moved undetected in managing the world's affairs.
  - Gilead abode beyond the Jordan, and Dan applied himself to ships. Asher dwelt on the seashore, and abode in the havens. Judge 5:17
2. Dan has always been anti-monarchy, yet he likes his position of authority, standing above all national governments because he belongs to the body of waters on the earth that represents his central place of doing business in shipping. Dan found lots of King Solomon's intellectual property and is credited with igniting the explosion, causing Europe to evolve into an advanced civilization by applying knowledge of sacred geometry in the construction of Cathedrals, castles, and many designed architecture.

3. Japheth continued to evolve his religious identity. Jeremiah's colonies, combined with Mary's missionary work in France and England, eventually led to the Crusades. Entire towns and villages walked from Europe to Jerusalem to reconnect to the spiritual house of Jacob.

4. "God shall enlarge Japheth, and he shall dwell in the tents of Shem; and Canaan shall be his servant." Gen 9:27

The enslavement of Judah enabled Japheth to enlarge his spiritual territory. About 80% of African Americans have English last names.

5. Colonialization proves Canaan shall be a servant to Japheth. A warning: condemn Babylonians for the right reasons, not contrary to the Scriptures.

The Planetary Covenant is predicated on the man &amp; Woman personal Relationship. ---	---

After considering the Conclusionary validations above, the 144k should know God delivers on his statutory judgments. God came on time in 2017 at the end of the first seventy years. Then why not, according to Euphrates Announcement of Babylon's Fall, at the end of the seventy years in September 2022?

Queen Elizabeth II Marks the end of Seventy years At Babylon

- For thus saith the LORD, that after seventy years be accomplished at Babylon I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place. Jer. 29:10

Every time I pray, I ask that God in his good will may at last make it possible for me to visit you now.

For I want very much to see you, in order to share a spiritual blessing with you to make you strong. Romans 1:10-11
