*Be ready for anything! Please bring all types of dance shoes, you never know what type of choreography you will be asked to audition.

_____ *Please prepare your child for the audition process. They will be required to dance in front of other students and a panel of teachers. Although their results will not be announced on audition day, it is important that they are prepared for either outcome. Dance is not a pass or fail activity. It is a process and each dancer progresses at difference rates. It is of the utmost importance that you support the decision that is made. Know that these decisions are made with thoughtful and careful consideration for individuals and entire groups of children. As teachers we are well aware of each child's unique talents and skills. Results of auditions are based on many factors and are final.

*Bring your best attitude, audition day can be challenging! There is pressure and sometimes new and unfamiliar steps! Smile and have fun, that's the most important thing!

*Dress to impress! Stand out by wearing your favorite dance outfit, come with your hair pulled back into a ponytail or bun.

_____ Parents! Please note it is a closed audition and there will be no observation. This is to ensure that dancers feel comfortable and focused in the dance room.

_____ *Please remember once you audition we anticipate that you are willing to be fully committed to being in a group. If your commitment is tentative and you are not sure it will be possible, please come to us with any concerns. Please do not audition if you are not prepared to accept an invitation.

_____ *If your child is in a group, their current placement is not guaranteed from season to season. They may be moved around. Audition day is important in placing your child in the appropriate group, however, we look closely at their behavior, attendance and peer relationships from the past season. If we find a behavioral pattern that does not align with our standards, we may not reconsider them for a group.

*New tentative summer and fall 2019/2020 schedule will be available the day of the audition.

_____ *Students and parents must be fully committed to the schedule they are provided. All performances and events are mandatory. Upon receiving the calendar immediate notification must be given in writing to their teacher and to the director if there is a conflict.
