History of RKISM

"Guiding students to international success for over 16 years."

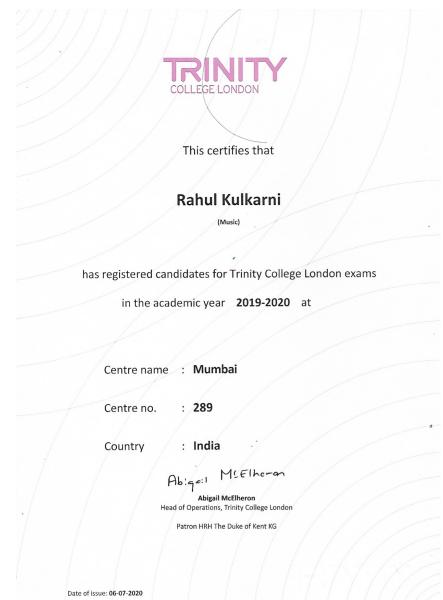

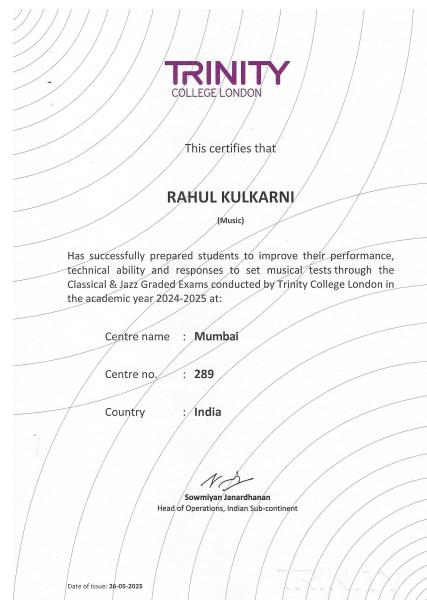

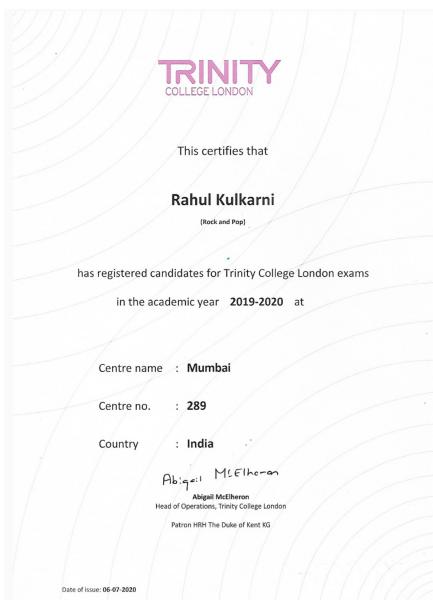

After over 16 years of dedicated research and experience in music education, RKISM (RK International School of Music) has launched its online music academy to bring world-class training to students everywhere. Founded by experienced musicians and educators, RKISM has taught thousands of students and collaborates with internationally recognized examination boards, including Trinity College London and the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, preparing learners for graded music exams and qualification standards used globally.
