

PAUL'S LETTER TO THE BVG FELLOWSHIP

To my brothers and sisters of Brazos Valley Gathering fellowship: Grace and peace be with you from God our Father.

We give thanks to God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, and I continue to pray always for you. I know that many of you, my brothers and sisters, are dismayed with the current times, the betrayal by politicians and governments, sicknesses, wars, natural disasters, and famine. Sin and falsehoods have become mainstream against our Christian faith, and we suffer as such. It is of this worldly evil that our beloved brother and Savior Jesus Christ, the son of God, was falsely accused and sentenced to death, to be crucified on a cross, in hopes of crushing our faith to give into this worldly evil.

But I write to you this day a glorified celebration of our victory over sin and death with the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Take great value in knowing that our saved spirit shall be glorified and be everlasting with God the father in Heaven. As on this day, his son, Jesus Christ, our beloved brother and Savior has risen from the tomb in victory over death to save all of us.

Make this redemption known to all the world; though Jesus was perceived to be dead, he is alive! Be disciples and grow in the Christian faith, share the good news with all that will hear. Turn to God from all these worldly evils and serve the true God. Have faith built upon Jesus Christ who has rescued us from this world.

I rejoice with you in this celebration over death today. Proclaim Jesus, while admonishing and teaching every person with wisdom that they too can become complete in Christ and build a relationship with God the Father.
