

January 26, 2020

Who will own The Multi-Trillion Dollar Dream Projects?

We have been ask this question many times by many people, who is going to own
The Multi-Trillion Dollar Dream Projects?

Well as of this date in time January 26, 2020 they're 100% owned by Charles James Apgar and Mildred Vearlene Sullivan.

That's because no one seems to want to get involved in The Multi-Trillion Dollar
Dream Projects and all that they can be now and in the future.

It seems that everybody wants, but nobody wants to get involved and do what it takes to build multi-level vertical walkable cities of this magnitude.

If you want something out of life you have to get some of it on you.

It's that simple folks.

If you do something it will get you something. What will that something be?

There's no exact answer to that. But something always beats nothing.

You get to decide what you want to do. You get to decide what's best for you.

Dare to be a part of The Multi-Trillion Dollar Dream Projects. Dare to step up.

If you want a strong economy, good jobs, good paychecks, we have to create that ourselves. Not always wait for someone else to do it for us.

And in the process of creating something, we help ourselves and others in this world automatically.

Keep in mind we're a world economy now out of necessity.

Might as well get used to it folks.

Everybody has to eat.

The Multi-Trillion Dollar Dream Projects are only a place to start.

They will require resources from around this world to build.

Try and imagine the number of jobs and paychecks the building of just one project would generate.

If they're not built, then we have generated nothing.

Remember nothing is just that, nothing.

That's reason enough alone to build The Multi-Trillion Dollar Dream Projects.

Who will own them you ask. Does it really matter at the end of the day.

We think that a more important thing to be concerned about is what we will leave behind when our life is over.

That's what we're trying to do. Leave this world a better place than we found it.

We plan on these projects benefiting those that dare to be a part of them on an ongoing basis, that's on a day to day basis.

If you are here you will benefit.

That's the only way we know to be fair.

Having said that, The Multi-Trillion Dollar Dream Projects will be owned by the people that grace them now and 100 years from now and for as long as they stand.

Sincerely, Charles James Apgar and Mildred Vearlene Sullivan