

Roderick Dwayne “ROD” Adams

Likes: Diversey, Commitment

Dislikes: Golf, Cold Weather

Handicap: Oh come on. Do we really have to say a number. Is this ∞ a number?

Scouting Report: Worst avid golfer...Some confusion on setting a wedding date as ROD thought he was “getting a wedding date”...Him and the other girls at work are thinking of starting a golf league...his opinion of golf has been upgraded to disdain...hopes that when they make the movie about his life either Denzel or Wesley are available...As one of the last remaining Metro-Sexuals, ROD has been given the “transition tag” by Team West Coast Swing

Scouting Report: The Swing’s Wildcard. Could shoot the low round of the day without hitting a single fairway... Has formed a successful “partnership” with Nate. Their story is sure to capture the imagination of Hollywood (see: Brokeback Mountain, Transamerica.) I wish I knew how to quit you. As an aside, why don’t they award Academy Awards to movies that people saw? Wedding Crashers was the #6 highest grossing movie of 2005. It is #59 all-time. Not one mention of it at the Oscars. But I digress...Political aspirations include being a corrupt alderman...Plans on writing off drinking as a “business expense”

Jason “Yux” Akemann

Likes: Cubs Fan’s beer money, cigarettes, Mike’s Hard, Miller High Life (the Champagne of Beers)

Dislikes: 8am, Last Call for Alcohol

Handicap: 12

Heritage: French

Chris “BOY” Bisailon

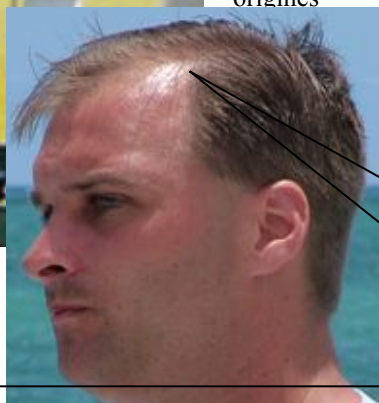

From: Chris Bisailon

Sent: Monday, February 20, 2006 4:05 PM

Sorry, it is Canada day on the 1st. As many of you know I am the prestigious mixture of French/Canadian. I will be paying due respect in a celebratory way to the long line of French Canadian's in the Bisailon family. I will see if I can make time for some of you if I get a break.

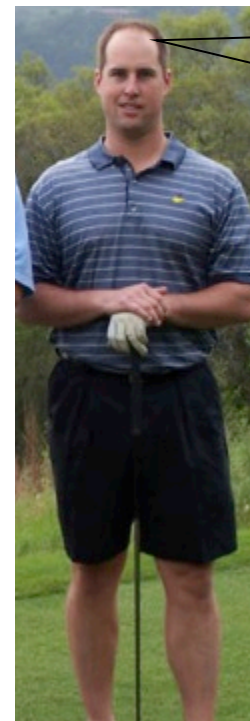

L'ORIGINE DU NOM

De l'origine Des Familles Canadiennes-Françaises : La croyance est que le nom Bisailon viendrait d'une ville appelée Bersaillin située en Jura, région de la France dans le canton de Poligny. Autre source, Le dictionnaire des noms, établit le nom de Bizalion et autre variante de Bizaillon qui originerait du département de Loire ou Haute Loire en France et suggère que le nom pourrait avoir plusieurs origines

I wonder what looks better, the “swoop” or a piece

Jason “Fat-Head Horse-Teeth” Caliento

I wonder if Bisailon's hair guy can hook me up

Scouting Report: He has had a big year. Two (Steelers and White Sox) of his 8 (Yankees, Reds, Cardinals, Rams, Bears, Bulls) favorite sports teams won championships. Chris would also like to congratulate the Texas Longhorns. A team he has been supporting since early January... Since buying a golf course he has become a worse golfer. Excuses include: addition of kids; Achilles heal (literally and figuratively); unorthodox swinging style; age; the pressures of work; binge drinking... At least one controversy will arise from him cackling thru someone's back swing... Graduated “cum laude”, which doesn't mean what you think it does Scouting Report: Reining West Coast Swing Champion... Still the benchmark for all bad athleticism amongst the fellas... This guy has moved so many times he took out a 1 year mortgage with a 1 month ARM... Works for the phone company, but –in an ironical twist– he doesn't return voice mails... Thinks he can stream video to your phone. Can you see him now? Good... Will be instrumental for the defense in Disney Properties v. West Coast Swing Inc.

Occupation: Busy (he is busier than you)

Handicap: 15

Chris Egan...SUCKS

Scouting Report: Will, more than likely, forego the golf cart and run the course...Reining WCS MVP...Probably won't drink beer because it is unhealthy and bad for you. He will drink a dozen egg whites for breakfast every morning...After almost two straight years working for West Coast Swing Inc., expect him to switch companies soon...After Michael Jordan retired in Chicago, Egan moved to Texas so that he can stalk Lance Armstrong (the last WCS he organized was hosted by Lance's hometown of Austin). Since Lance has retired, Egan has shifted his obsession to Tiger Woods. Accordingly this year's WCS (that he organized) is in nearby Orlando. Psycho...With his ability to grow facial hair, he will be the only golfer with a 9 am shadow...Just like college we can only confirm that he has had sex one time...Two times...As Interim West Coast Swing Coordinator, he has been slow to introduce a drug policy. The controversy has been a media firestorm (see: Nardi's biceps). Just like baseball, the WCS has promoted drug use for years.

Egan is really excited about golfing. Impressive!

Handicap: 17

Likes: voice mail, email

Dislikes: returning voice mail, returning email

Hobbies: not returning voice mail, not returning email.

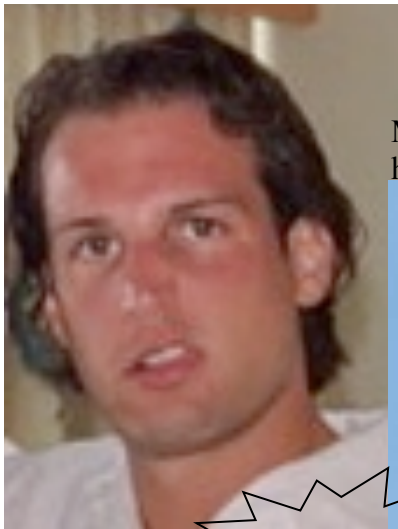

Handicap: 22

Scouting Report: As an honorary McClellan he is going to squeeze this in between family vacations... Missed last year's West Coast Swing because he had VIP tickets for Everyone Poops—the Musical...Contractually obligated to end every conversation with "It's a great time to buy an Oldsmobile"...Notre...Shaped like a pear

Scott "G$" Fries

Grunge just hit Homer Glen

Matthew McConaughey
has really let himself go

First Time Swinger

Handicap: 15

Scouting Report: Hopes his “partner” Akemann can pull a few strings at the theater and recreate his first acting role (I am not going to describe the violent homosexual rape scene)...As a new dad, he will play 2 strokes worse. Doesn’t make sense yet, but it will. Are you listening KOZ?... Always a music fan, he and Jett will spend the summer as “Wig-Heads” and follow the Wiggles around the country...I know you are going bald, but what is the deal with all the Hollywood men holding on to their hair. Seriously, Nick Cage, Ed Harris, Tom Hanks, Bruce Willis. These guys were almost completely bald a decade ago. Since then they have actually gained hair. It pisses me off. At some point, I am going to go bald. I want to know what these celebrities are doing to keep that from happening. I think Bisailon is seeing a guy.

Nate “Nate” Hilding

Handicap: 18

Matt “Matt” Hilding

Scouting Report: As a son of a preacher man (KOZ loves that song by the way), KOD will ask Matt to perform their ceremony. Although he is only ordained in small Caribbean islands...As the youngest Swing attendee, he will have a lot to prove. He is odds on favorite to be really, really drunk... Prefers older women. Not like in a creepy way, but he is anxiously awaiting the Supreme Court’s Anna Nicole Smith ruling

First Time Swinger

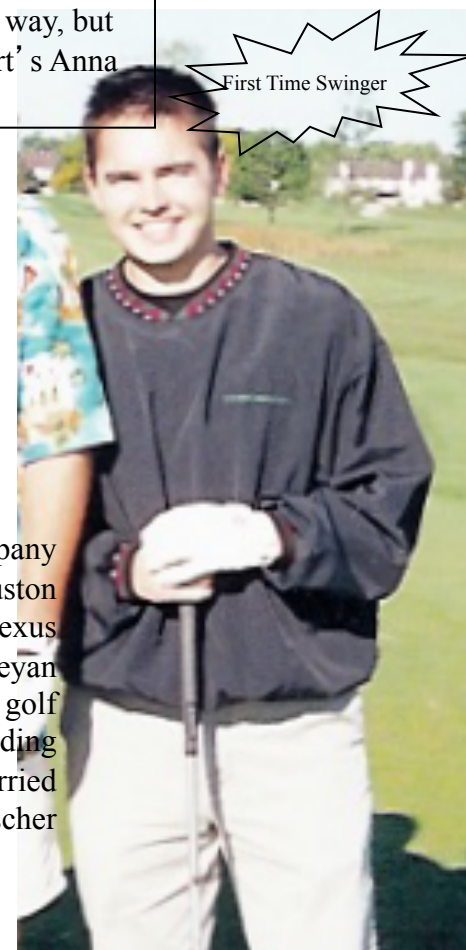

hilding

a wretch, a contemptible person

1985: ‘God, eh? Which god? You whore, you loathsome hilding.’ — Anthony Burgess, Kingdom of the Wicked

Always the trailblazer, Matt Hilding is one of the :

- 40% of the WCS attendees employed by a mutual fund company
 - 20% of the WCS attendees to live in Houston
 - 47% of the WCS attendees that own a Lexus
- 93% of the WCS attendees that went to Illinois Wesleyan
 - 86% of the WCS attendees that play golf
- 13% of the WCS attendees that are named Hilding
 - 66% of the WCS attendees that are married
- 20% of the WCS attendees that are from Herscher

Richard “KOZ” Kozlowski

Likes: Commitment, Grease II (the one with Michelle Pfeiffer), Mike's Hard Lemonade, Cubs

Dislikes: Blotch-inducing beer

Handicap: 12

Scouting Report: Should be mostly distracted throughout the weekend. He hasn't gone through this many life changes since his voice changed and his testicles dropped. So don't be surprised if he cuts you off mid-sentence to give you his unrelated thought... Thought about working his way through Q School but didn't want to cut back on his rounds per week...As part of his pre-nup, he is converting into a White Sox fan.

Doug “DUG” Macomber

Scouting Report: Generally contends for various titles, but never wins. Always the bridesmaid, never the bride. Ironically he has been a groom twice though...Apparently his game and handicap has got much better since hiring Butch Harmon DVD...Should work into the conversation that his golf course is really hard...Golf will only begin after he has had two pots of coffee and 3 sh*ts...Barber School drop out...A life long fan of the teams from whatever city he lives in now

Handicap: 17

In conquest of Western Hemisphere there are going to be a few changes. First Shirts sizes. I want shirts that are sized large to only fit people that I would describe as “Large”. Then shirt that are extra-large would only be reserved for those persons that are considered a little “Extra-Large”. If there was someone that is extra extra large we might have even have a size for those people as well. As it stands, everyone wears an XL. I don't think they even make Smalls and you rarely see Mediums. Don't you think Medium sized people should wear Medium sized shirts? I think we need to do a Mexican devaluation of the peso to shirt sizes. And I have no idea how women's clothes sizes work. Are we supposed to be tricked into thinking a girl is skinny because her pants are some randomly selected number? So some fat girl has pants that are 36” around, but I am going to think she is skinny because she wears 16's?

I think they should sell pants by age. Ever put on dress pants and the crotch hangs down to your knees. That is because old men wear them up to their nipples. I can put on a pair of dress pants that fit in every regard except for the crotch. It is huge. It makes me a bit insecure. They don't make jeans that way. Do they think that because I am wearing slacks that my balls are going to swell to 10x their normal size? In order to get a tighter fit I can pull them up to my nipples like I am an old man. Not only should they sell pants by age, but they should sell porn by age. At this point, does it make any sense to have more that a couple minutes of porn? What am I 18?

Brian "B." Moore

Likes: computers and the stock market (I think that is true. He told me that he was going to spend some time on his laptop getting "out of his shorts" and "going long". He also was going to make his software into hardware). His voice trailed as he said something about his Handspring or Palm Pilot

Dislikes: baseball teams that win

Handicap: 18

Scouting Report: West Coast Swing founder...As a devout Cub fan, he will insist on golfing only with other Cubs fans or perennial losers. Expect him to be paired with DUG for the entire Swing...One of the longest drivers on the Swing but only because he moved to the Iowa part of Chicago...Speaks fluent computer nerd...Like every Spring Break he will get sunburned on the first day... Just like basketball, he will claim to not have touched a golf club in a year shortly after he pars the first hole

Mike "Smitty" Smith

Likes: Accounting!!

Dislikes: Pink Shirts

Handicap: 29

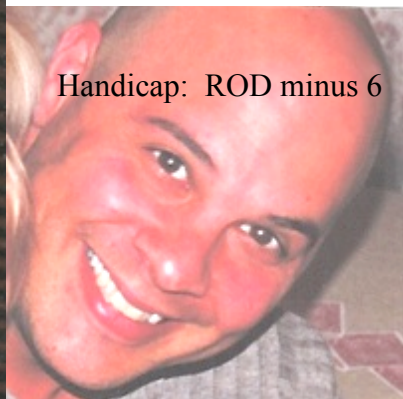

Scouting Report: Since the U of Illinois (a school he did not attend) is out of the NCAA Tourney, Smitty is back on the Swing... Prediction: Smitty gets increasingly uncomfortable after Akemann and KozMo repeatedly order a "Mike's Hard"...As a younger man Smitty hoped to "make it with a pair of twins", instead he has "made a pair of twins"...As is normally the case, Smitty will be relentlessly made fun of for nothing he did. He is hoping that Tom Gaylord makes the trip next year...Should beat Smoothie in the Saturday night drunk dance off

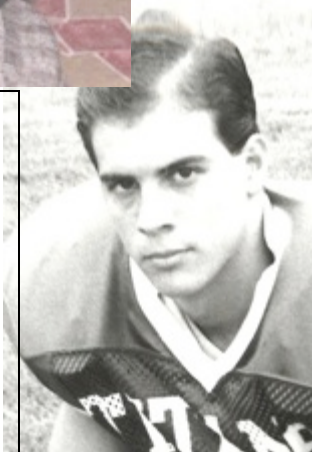

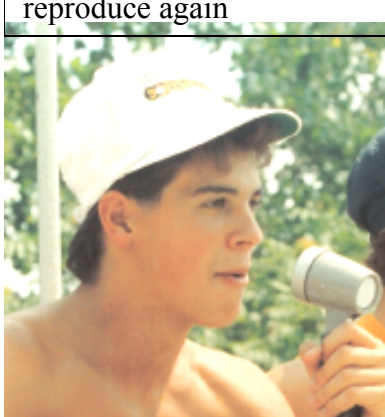

Mark "Nardi" Nardi

Handicap: ROD minus 6

Scouting Report: An avid non-golfer (most weeks he will not golf up to 7 times!), he has been working very hard on his physique. At some point he is going to flex his biceps for you. Just so you know... There are more pictures on this bio than others. But let's face it. Nardi would want it that way... You ever notice how you never see him and Vin Diesel together?...F.B.I full blooded Italian... The time spent with Charles Barley's swing coach is starting to pay off. He has really grooved his swing hitch... Second consecutive year without a surprise Father's Day card... The judge has asked him not to reproduce again

The Pacifier

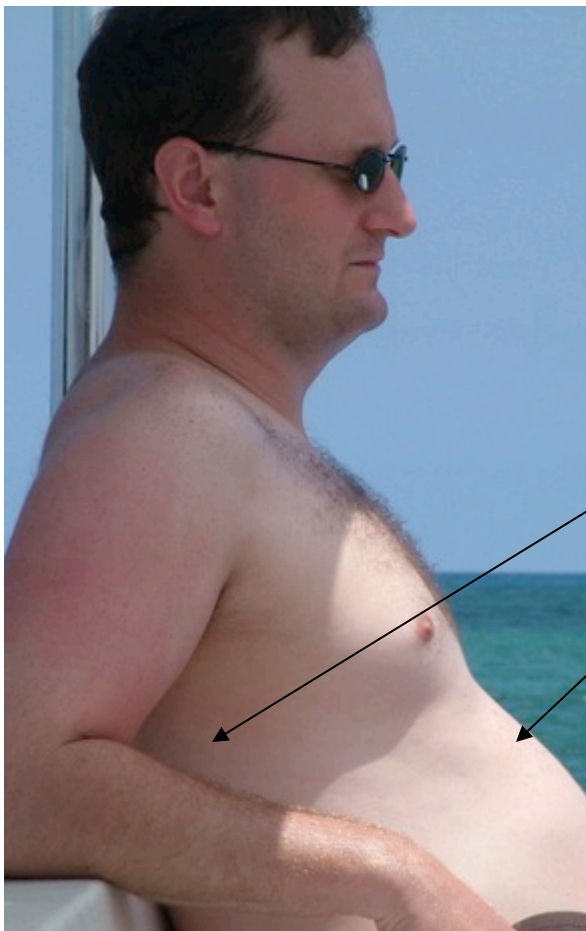

Handicap: 5

David "Shimo"
Shimokawa

Scouting Report: The Swing's best golfer... Expect a deep philosophical conversation (and possibly a hug) after the 15th Mike's Hard Lemonades... Should lose the Swing Championship to whoever lied the most about their handicap... pays extra for the leg waxing but I think it is worth it... Following the growing trend he recently got engaged to "TBD"... As one of the last single Swingers, he is happy to be in Orlando—MILF central... Little known fact: David is Scotch-Romanian

Scott "Smoothie" Stevens

Likes: Deep Squat Thrusts

Dislikes: Travel

I wonder if this is why I have back problems?

Or this? Or this?

Handicap: 17

Scouting Report: Working his way through the World Tour. After an unsuccessful run on the European Tour (European? I'm a Peeing too!), he is grinding it out on the Japan Tour...Unknown what he brings to the table. Smooth recently had surgery on his BrokeBack. So he should be struggling with a week back (it happened about a week back)...Former WCS MVP for his Plane, Trains and Automobile Day...Thinking of using frequently flyer miles to buy the house next to Bisailon's...baseball career cut short in AA. No, not the minor leagues--the organization

Chris "Stix" Hastings

Scouting Report: Only West Coast Swinger to have seen BrokeBack Mountain—twice... Late entry. A back door entry if you will...Briefly attending WCS to find out how to organize a sporting event
