I suffered from a "chip out of my shoulder" disease last swing. The other disease to consider is "Chip Disease" which is described as a condition with symptoms being the presence of an evil alter ego after the consumption of mass quantities of alcohol. While commonly referred to as "Chip Disease" there are roughly 38 unique strains to this condition with various names including but not limited to "Shims Disease", "Smoothie Disease", "Eiche Disease", "Snaps Disease", "FBI Disease", etc. etc.

Kenny (9-24-14)

Shims-disease is kind of like masturbation and 3 putts. You're never proud when it happens but you know you will do it again.

- Shims (9-24-14)

The "Chip" strain runs in the herpes family so be careful...It is a hell of a lot of fun to contract it but once it's in you, there is no cure. You can try and mask it's symptoms but it can pop up unexpectedly at any time and without warning.

Chip (9-24-14)

There is no "evil" associated with the Snaps strain. Just immaturity. Be happy if you get it. It's awesome.

SNAPS (9-24-14)
