

Inside the WCS

sort of like ESPN the Magazine, but way shittier.

By Jason Caliento
ITWCS Senior Writer
Jan. 17, 2016

Chicago, IL

Hildings Out as Ass Captains

Inside the WCS has exclusively learned that The Young Guys (a.k.a. The JV Team) have announced "ass captains" David Malcom and Corndog for the team's annual ass-off. The surprise move has many WCS watchers wondering what Nate and Matt Hilding, multi-year ass captains, have done to be removed from ass-captaincy.

"It's reached a level of Twinkie-gay with the brothers" according to someone familiar with the matter who requested anonymity..."I think Captain Kenny wants to keep it a little more you know, Bearish, this year.

Since 2009, the annual ass-off has been an unfortunate tradition, where the Hilding brothers compare asses while wrestling shirtless in bed.

"Apparently, Its a cornerstone of Kenny's strategy this year. The Hilding's being gay, is you know, expected. Malcom and Corndog, that's taking it to a whole new level."

Others agree it may be a sign of roster and role changes to come on the Young Guys team.

"Kenny isn't a traditional captain, he's not going to rest on last years formula and victory. He's going to keep changing things up to keep things fresh and gay on the JV team."

"The Hildings didn't "do" anything, it's just not the motivational tool it's been in the past. Seeing Malcom and Corn wrestle shirtless with their asses out...that's going to get our team going".

A Varsity team spokesman declined to comment.

The WCS takes place this March, at WigWam resort, AZ.

Jason Caliento is a former WCS food Czar and World's #1. He is now a pulitzer prize winning writer for the nationally acclaimed "Inside the WCS."

