

The End of the Driveway Too

What is this clip about? I am not certain what this clip is about. It's difficult to remember. There I am driving to the end of my driveway. There is a nuclear explosion. Everything whirls around, and dimensions collapse into a one-sided plane. Then, I drive my one-sided plane through the Museum of Modern Art. Did it really happen? The explosion, I mean. Did it? I glide in silence. I glide on.
