

Mr Chroma Bottle Index

This series of photographs shows how a PLA plastic microsculpture is made from the initial printing through the removal of supports.

The Chromosome strands are filled with supports in the early stages of the print. These supports must be removed without breaking the strands.

