Weekly Report

Week of March 15, 2026

Helping you buy the right comics every week.

Thank you for joining my Concierge Report and/or The White Glove Experience!

It's a dream of mine to have my own business doing what I'm passionate about and what I love.

Helping you buy the right comics every week.

 THE WEEKLY ESSENTIALS

If you only buy three books this week, make it these:

Dead Teenagers #1

Oni Press

An intriguing horror title that looks very promising. The premise is reminiscent of the film Happy Death Day, and this could be the next big horror comic hit.

Lobo #1

DC Comics

The combination of Skottie Young, this popular character before his movie debut in Supergirl, and the first appearance of Mr. Kzzt is a winner.

White Sky #1 (2nd Print) and D'Orc #1 (3rd Print)

Image Comics

The latest prints of the two titles that kicked off this current wave of speculation. Lower print runs plus high demand make these a good pick for increased value and also an opportunity to read them if you missed the first prints.

 SPECULATION TIP

The Spec Market is very volatile right now, which can lead to elevated prices. This is great for monetary value in the short term but can cause shortages.

I recommend pulling the title prior to FOC at your Local Comic Shop to ensure you can get these titles.

UNDER THE RADAR

Marvel Comics

Wonder Man #1 and Sentry #1

Both titles will be easy to miss with all the attention on spec books this week. They feature characters that are new to fans of the MCU and would be a good way to learn about these characters for readers not familiar with them.

DC Comics

Superman Unlimited #11

Jon Kent becomes Tomorrow Man. Established characters taking new identities is a great way to invigorate their character and tell some fresh stories.

Independent Comics

Super Creepshow #1

Creepshow is a popular horror anthology comic and here they tell a couple of superhero-related horror tales. I think this could be a lot of fun and may get missed with all the attention on spec books lately.

FOC (FINAL ORDER CUTOFF) ALERT

Final Order Cutoff is when your LCS (Local Comic Shop) has to have their final orders in. Pulling your books after this can result in lack of availability.

Fury Of Firestorm #1

DC Comics

Fan favorite writer Jeff Lemire takes on this memorable but underused character. I'm excited to see his take on him.

The Hab #1

Bad Idea

With a very impressive creative team of Joshua Dysart, David Latham, and legendary artist Billy Sienkiewicz, plus an intriguing premise, this could be a huge hit.

Mumm-Ra The Everliving #1

Dynamite Comics

The nostalgia train keeps rolling. People get emotional and excited for these nostalgia titles, and they have been very well made. If you haven't tried them yet, check this one out.

Event Horizon: Inferno #1

IDW

Another hit adaptation/sequel. Last year's Event Horizon book was a surprise hit and well liked, so I expect more with this entry.

Pretty Hate Machine #1

Mad Cave

★ #1 FOC Pick of the Week

This is already seeing speculation interest in the hobby, so if this is a title you are interested in, pull it as soon as possible. It's getting a lot of buzz.

Murder Hobo #1

Midnight Factory

Odd titles like this usually draw attention, similar to Florida Hippopotamus Cocaine Massacre and others like it.

Diablo: Dawn of Hatred #1

Titan

Another book based on an existing IP, in this case a popular video game series. I'm interested to see what a capable writer like Cullen Bunn will do with it.

VARIANT COVER OF THE WEEK

Amazing Spider-Man #24

Legacy #988

1:25 Doaly Variant

To me this is an eye-catching cover that is a great fit for a ratio variant. It pops and is a fun use of the characters.

 McKay's Personal Pick

If I could only buy one book this week:

My pick for this coming week is Dead Teenagers #1, but you may find that hard to locate due to speculation interest. I recommend trying to secure one now.

My FOC pick is Pretty Hate Machine #1. It's interesting and I think it will be a good pick for both readers and speculators.

Thank you so much for participating in my service. Please check out my other services and upgrades, and feel free to message me with any input, questions, or suggestions.
