Editor's Notes:

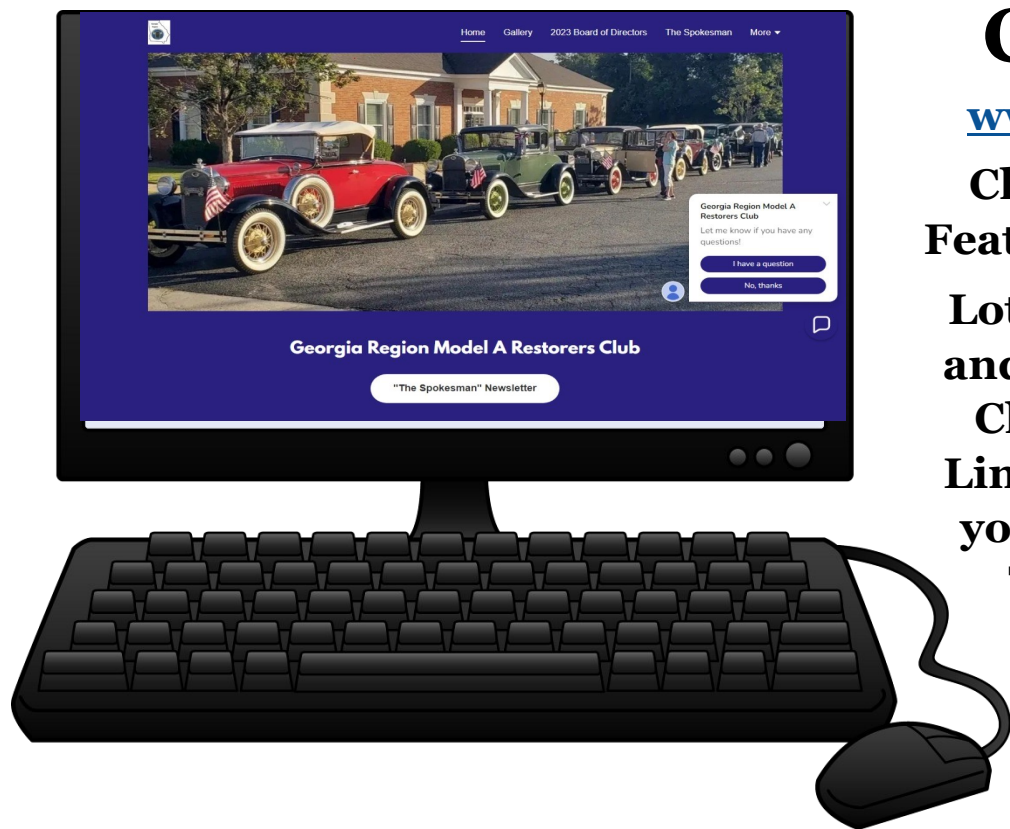

I see the kids are back in school, hopefully it won't be long now to some cooler weather. After all these weeks of 90 degrees plus, its hard to imagine sweatshirts and caps again. I know Halloween is typically cooler, about 2 more months, maybe we can stand it.

Also looking forward to the Hiawassee and Perry trips. They are always a fun time, and this year they have added an extra day of activities to both trips, so they should be even better. If you haven't made plans, do it today, and don't miss out.

Of course we are always looking for new things to do, so if you can think of anything that a bunch of people in old cars might enjoy, be sure and let us know. It might be a good idea for a road trip, or maybe a good place to eat... use your imagination. It really doesn't have to be new, could be something we've done in the past that you enjoyed and might want to do again... think it over and let us know...

See you on the Road...
Bentley Bohanan

SPOKESMAN DIRECTOR'S NOTES

Is your Model A air conditioner working? If it is not cooling properly you might need to push the windshield out just a little bit more. Whew, it's HOT! My two A's, Buford and Daisy, told me that they would rather stay in the garage when the temperature goes over 95 and I agree. There is plenty of work I can do on them while they stay cool. My current project is to fine tune the carburetors for maximum efficiency. Scott at Benny's showed me something that I did not know (there are still many things I still don't know). He showed me how to measure the proper heights for the main jet and the cap jet. He placed a 1/8 drill bit horizontal over the jets and measured with a caliper the depths looking for .512" for the main jet and .565" for the cap jet. Now this may be common knowledge to everyone but it was new to me and I appreciate Scott's advice. It's great when we can help each other and continue to make this hobby of ours even better.

If anyone has ever planned and prepared for a social event you know that hard work and long hours it takes to make it successful. I want to thank Mark and Marilyn for inviting us to his clubhouse for the ice cream social. Those who attended know that it was a lot more than just eating ice cream. Food, decorations, drinks, all the good home-made ice cream and fellowship made it a fun time for all. Let's now look forward to driving to Hiawassee for three days of fun. Top off your radiator and Let's roll! Mark Limmer

Model A Ford Lubrication Tips

I have had several guys ask me about what oil to use, and how often, so I thought it might be a good idea to put out an article about the subject. First of all, Model A's and all antique vehicles do require frequent lubrication. At least once per year you should change the engine oil. I suggest Shell Rotella heavy Duty from Walmart. It is sold in 1 gallon containers, just the right size for an oil change. You will also want to change the oil in the transmission, rear end, and check the oil in the steering gear. This takes A600W gear oil, available at Mikes A-Fordable Parts. You will need 2 quarts. While you have the hood open, be sure and oil your control linkages, along with the horn, generator, and distributor with motor oil in a drip can or 3 in 1 oil. The distributor and generator have oil ports on them, you will need to remove the rear cover to oil the horn. I like to lubricate the chassis every year also. Get out your grease gun and grease all the grease fittings. There are over 20 grease fittings, so take your time and get them all. 1 pump of grease in each fitting is usually enough. Don't worry about modern grease fittings vs original, any grease gun will work on either kind, try it and see. If you find a fitting that won't take grease, you can usually free it up by heating it with a propane torch for a couple of minutes. Don't forget the clutch throw out bearing, it is located at the front of the transmission, and you will need to remove the floor mat and the inspection plate on the bellhousing to get to it. There are also grease fittings on the water pump. While you are under the car, use your drip can on all your brake rod ends. Anywhere there is metal to metal contact can use some lubrication.

Ice Cream Social Recap

Ice Cream, You Scream, We all Scream for Ice Cream!!! What a fun time we had at our July Ice Cream Social. If you did not attend, you missed Cherry Vanilla, Chocolate, Mint Chocolate Chip, Peach, Strawberry and even Vanilla Ice Cream. It was an Ice Cream Parlor for sure. If Ice Cream was not your flavor, then you have enjoyed the hot dogs, chili, baked beans and slaw along with other desserts of your liking. We had 28 members enjoy all of these great summer eats and the great ice cream. If you did not attend this one you missed a good one. Plan to join us on our next outing.
