Huntsville Backroads Tour

A Fall Color Getaway • October 28–November 1, 2026

Huntsville Botanical Garden

Timed for Peak Fall Color

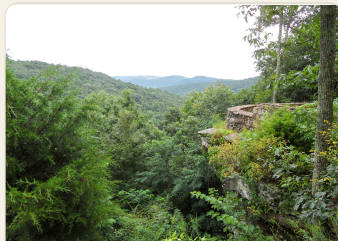

North Alabama's peak fall color window typically runs from late October into the first week of November — these dates sit right at or very near historical peak for Huntsville and Monte Sano, with ridge-top overlooks and backroad drives framed in red, orange, and gold.

Along the Way

U.S. Space & Rocket Center

Saturn V rocket & NASA history

Monte Sano State Park

Ridge-top overlooks above the valley

Burritt on the Mountain

Historic farmstead & mountaintop views

Twickenham Historic District

Antebellum homes, a slow drive-by tour

Five-Day Highlights

- Wed — Arrive & settle in, then an evening drive-by tour of the Historic Twickenham District's antebellum homes.
- Fri — A scenic backroads drive up Monte Sano, with ridge-top overlooks, then on to Burritt on the Mountain's historic farmstead.
- Sun — Check out and head for home. Safe travels!
- Thu — U.S. Space & Rocket Center: the Saturn V, Rocket Park, and Smithsonian-affiliated exhibits.
- Sat — Huntsville Botanical Garden's fall color, plus the working artist studios at Lowe Mill.
