Are You a Veteran
Looking for a New Job in 2024? We Want to Hear from You

[Did you know veteran unemployment is hanging out at a low, low, low 2.9%? According to the latest figures from the U.S. Department of Labor, veteran unemployment is even lower than civilian unemployment. That is all good news for our community, right?) That is all good news unless you are the one who is transitioning out of the military this year. That is all good news unless you are one of the thousands upon thousands of unemployed veteran workers wishing for a different job. That is all good news unless you are one of the currently unemployed. If you are the one who does not have a job, then veteran (or spouse) unemployment can feel like it is at 100%.

That is why we are 100% on your side at the Veteran Employment Project. Each year, we work to bring you better, brighter master classes full of those invisible insights you need to get the job you really want. But we need a little help from you.

Christmas is a time of year when family and friends especially miss those who are away. Some families are blessed enough to get to see their military service family member for the holiday. Soldiers serve within various branches including Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, and Coast Guard. Depending on the country, other branches may be included. Since soldiers are sometimes away for long periods of time, Christmas is a special time to give a meaningful card.

No matter where you are or what you're doing, know that we are thinking of you on Christmas.

I'm praying for you to be safe. May the Lord bless you and keep you.

Christmas reminds me that love is timeless. Whether it was 2000 years ago or it's right now, you have been and always will be loved.

I'm wishing all our service men and women to feel the love of our Lord this Christmas.

All I want for Christmas is you!

As we celebrate the birth of a hero of our world, we'll be thinking of the heroes of our country.

Remember that you are loved as you celebrate Christmas. We are looking forward to seeing you as soon as we can.

We love you and wish you all the best Christmas you can have under the circumstances you're experiencing.
