“A Ministry Moving from Healing to Wholeness”

From the Desk of Dr. Kevin Daniels

Greetings.

With the incoming of potentially new COVID variants, and the relaxing of state and city regulations, there has been an uptick in Coronavirus cases, and out of an abundance of caution, and at least specific to our ministry, we have had recent COVID cases.

While I have spoken to members and they can trace their external locations, I still want the church to be cautious. With that said, we will continue to adhere to strict CDC policies of temperature checks, registration, wearing of masks, and distancing. Please seriously consider either vaccination, testing, or immune boosters because this virus continues to be serious.

Lastly, I say to all of you, with so many of our members loving external travel, outings, and family gatherings, I bid you caution for the sake of your families.
