

The Parish Tucson Restaurant

Written by Sabrina Chapman · Published on July 22, 2024 · in Featured Restaurants, Food & Drink

Take your tastebuds on a culinary journey at The Parish. At this beacon of Southern hospitality and culinary excellence in Tucson, the energy matches the pulse of jazz and the aroma of home cooking fills the air.

From the moment you step over the threshold into The Parish, visitors are swept into an atmosphere that mirrors the vibrant energy of the streets of New Orleans. Like great Southern literature, every dish tells a flavor story and every bite is an experience.

For starters, let's talk about The Parish's incredible Black & Blue Brussels—perhaps the most unexpectedly delightful twist on Brussels sprouts you'll ever encounter. Hats off to The Parish for turning Brussel sprouts into a dish that we now crave endlessly. So, what's the secret? It's all about the layers of flavor they bring to the table. Picture this: candied pecans add a sweet, buttery nuttiness that perfectly contrasts with the peppery vibrancy of cilantro. And just when you think it couldn't get any better, they top it off with an award-winning house-made black-and-blueberry hot sauce. This sauce is a symphony of jammy sweetness from the berries, balanced with a tantalizing habanero heat that elevates every bite to new heights.

Black & Blue Brussels

As for the main event, order The Parish's Chicken & Waffles. Trust me, you'll thank us later. Picture this: a mesquite-smoked cinnamon Creole-rubbed half bird that's tender, juicy, and bursting with flavor. Paired perfectly with a fluffy waffle, and topped with cracked black pepper-vanilla butter, it's a harmonious blend of savory and sweet that will leave your taste buds dancing.

Feeling parched? The Parish's Dutch Well Water is a hydration libation to rescue your thirst. House-infused cucumber gin mingles with lavender water, accented with the delicate essence of flowers. Add a touch of peach bitters for a hint of fruity depth, sweetened lime juice for a refreshing tang, and a splash of ginger ale to give it just the right amount of sparkle.

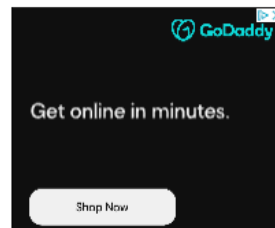

Enter your keywords...

SEARCH

WHAT'S NEW

Wrigley Mansion Welcomes Aperitivo
Collins Brothers Public House
Great Wolf Lodge Hosts 8/4 Day Flash Sale
Backyard Gilbert to Open in September
Cultural Festivals in Arizona You Can't Miss

Upcoming Events

- AUG 10:00 am - 2:00 pm
17 Sip + Shop Summer Market Series
- AUG 8:00 pm - 11:00 pm
17 Disco in the Desert: A Night of '70's Nostalgia!
- AUG All day
24 Master Chef Series & Chef's Tasting Dinner
- AUG 6:00 pm - 10:00 pm
24 Old Hollywood Glitz & Glamour Murder Mystery Party
- AUG 4:00 pm - 7:00 pm
25 Sip & Splash at Andaz Scottsdale

View Calendar

