

Thursday 21st January

Blog

Woke up late again this morning, got changed and jumped in my taxi and still managed to arrive on time. I arrived at school by 8:55am and took 2 COVID-19 tests with all the staff and it all came back positive, so we were able to start our day.

Aida's timetable seemed as usual full of un and hard work, so we started with BTEC food lesson where I made milkshakes for everyone and written work based on catering industries. I then had BTEC sports with Nathan where I looked at Laws and regulations of football and let me tell you, its boring.

During break, whilst the other staff were on a zoom call with the Clovelly team, me and Aida sat at the table and I had the pleasure to listen to Aida sing a song by Billy Joel and I am still traumatised!!

Lunch was better, although having to wear mitts to cook now, I made myself a sandwich and planned our 'fun' afternoon which is English with Aida who's had too much sugar and Jo-Ann who is literally turning into a squirrel – she is eating nuts all the time!!

At least today I managed to avoid Nathan's wake and shake for another day.

By cc