

Message from the President

Milford Amateur Radio Club

It is hard to imagine it is June already! While band conditions could be better, they could be worse. This is the latest image of Sol our nearest star. The photo shows solar wind activity is picking up. Hopefully, this is a precursor of sunspot activity in the near future. Personally, I believe we have seen the bottom of this cycle.

Unless things worsen, we have less than three months until hamfest. Hopefully, we can return to having physical meetings by July. I will have a sign up for volunteer positions for the hamfest at the meeting. Positions available include ticket takers, parking wardens, golf cart drivers, photographers, and club tables. If you can volunteer for a position, your help will be greatly appreciated.

If you have not already, please visit CincinnatiHamfest.org to check out our site promoting the hamfest. The website also has links to our Twitter and Facebook pages. Please invite others to visit the site, and join the mailing list. Please help spread the word the next time you are on a net, or speaking with another ham. Both vendors and attendees are more likely to attend if there is a lot of interest.

Due to the numerous hamfest cancelations, we could very well have the most successful event we have ever hosted. I am very optimistic we can have a very successful hamfest. Just like the Sun, I believe the future for our club is very bright!
