

Debbie McCulliss

FINE ART PHOTOGRAPHER

Debbie is a wildlife and nature photographer based in Denver and Steamboat Springs, CO.

As a nurse and science-medical writer, she came to photography after an unexpected fascination with the behavior of bald eagles. It didn't take long before she fell in love with photographing a variety of wildlife and witnessing the strength, fragility, beauty, and rhythm of nature.

With camera in hand, she loves to travel, mostly to colder areas, to capture images that speak to the heart.

Photographing bears in Alaska and penguins of South Georgia and the Falkland Islands are top on this year's wish list.
