-Never confide in a vacuum cleaner.
They're always collecting dirt

-Q: What time is it when the clock strikes 13? A: Time to get a new clock.

-What do you call a guy who's really loud? Mike.

-Me: Would you like to be the sun in my life? Her: Awww... Yes!!! Me: Good then stay 92.96 million miles away from me

-Why are frogs always so happy? They eat whatever bugs them

-I went down the street to a 24-hour grocery store. When I got there, the guy was locking the front door. I said, "Hey! The sign says you're open 24 hours." He Said, "Yes, but not in a row!"

On February 6, 1946, the HMS Mauretania departed Liverpool with 943 war brides and children on board, beginning a journey that would reshape thousands of Canadian families.

From 1939 to 1945, half a million Canadian soldiers served in Britain. During that time, as many as one in 10 married local women, leading to a wave of European brides immigrating to Canada in 1946.

When the Mauretania arrived at Pier 21 in Halifax on February 9, 1946, it marked a defining moment in this movement.

These women, many of whom had left their home for the first time, showed remarkable courage as they stepped into an uncertain future in a new country.

80 years later, we honour the strength and resilience of the war brides who crossed an ocean for love, hope, and new beginnings, and whose stories remain an important part of Canada's postwar history.
