

CONCEPT

This project explores a refined European-inspired estate. The architecture combines classical proportions with a contemporary sensibility, creating spaces that feel timeless yet modern.

The interiors draw from Belgian minimalist design traditions, emphasizing calm atmospheres, natural materials, and soft natural light. Rather than relying on heavy decoration, the design focuses on spatial clarity, warm textures, and carefully curated elements that create an elegant and understated living environment.

CONCEPTUAL VISUALIZATION

The following images are quick conceptual visualizations created to help communicate the architectural intent of the project.

They are not final renderings and were produced rapidly as exploratory visuals to illustrate spatial atmosphere, proportions, and the overall character of the design. These images did not go through a full 3D modeling or interior design development process.

A complete visualization process would involve detailed modeling, material studies, lighting design, and fully developed interior spaces to accurately represent the final architectural experience.

FORMAL LIVING ROOM

The formal living room is conceived as a grand architectural space that celebrates the openness and scale of the house.

With elevated ceilings, expansive views, and a refined furniture arrangement, the room highlights the architecture, natural light, and surrounding landscape.

This space is designed to receive guests and create a memorable first impression, where the openness and views become an essential part of the experience.

FAMILY ROOM

In contrast, the TV lounge is designed as a more intimate and comfortable space for everyday living.

Rather than opening toward the pool, the room faces a private garden centered around a sculptural olive tree.

This creates a calmer and more enclosed atmosphere, where the tree becomes a quiet focal point, almost like a piece of living art, reinforcing the sense of warmth and intimacy that a television room requires.

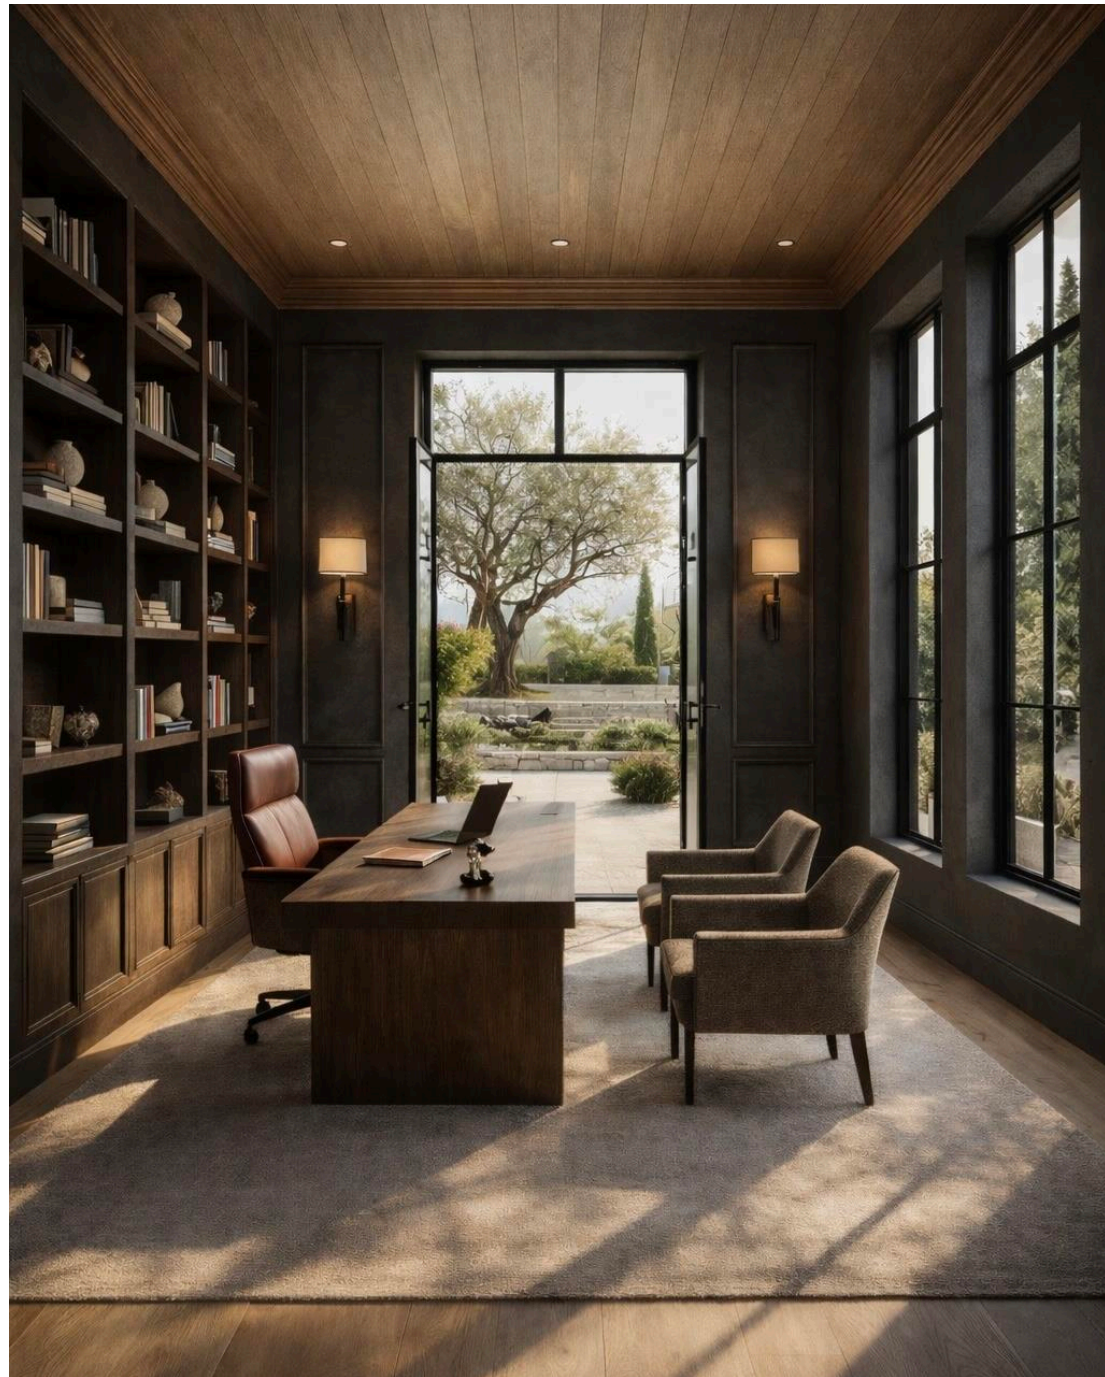

OFFICE

The space is designed as a quiet and focused workspace within the house.

While maintaining the architectural language of the home, the space prioritizes calmness, balance, and functionality.

Built-in shelving, warm materials, and controlled natural light create an environment that feels both refined and productive, allowing the room to function comfortably as a place for work, reading, and concentration.

GYM

The gym is conceived as a space slightly separated from the main living areas of the house, accessed through the outdoor terrace to create the feeling of a small pavilion within the property.

With views toward the pool and strong natural light, the space feels open, energizing, and connected to the landscape.

At the same time, the primary suite has direct access to the gym through the walk-in closet, allowing for a more private and convenient daily routine.
