Are you passionate about sharing your university experience and helping high school students explore their future academic paths?

We are looking for university students to join our team as Peer Advisors, supporting Grade 11–12 students through university program introductions, application guidance, and cross-cultural mentorship.

As a Peer Advisor, you will use your own academic and personal experiences to help students better understand university studies, campus life, and future career opportunities.

Responsibilities:

1. Academic Program & Career Pathway Presentations

- Introduce your university program and academic focus
- Share insights about courses, workload, and academic experiences
- Explain CO-OP/internship opportunities and study schedules
- Discuss potential career paths and post-graduation opportunities

2. University Life & Campus Culture Sharing

- Share experiences about campus life, housing, and student resources
- Introduce clubs, volunteering opportunities, and student communities
- Discuss cross-cultural experiences and adapting to university life abroad
- Answer questions from students and parents

3. University Application Guidance

- Explain admission requirements and application processes
- Share personal application experiences and preparation strategies

- Support students in understanding supplementary applications, interviews, and portfolios
- Provide study planning and application advice

4. One-on-One Mentorship

- Deliver online one-on-one tutoring sessions (approximately 30 minutes)
- Support students in English learning, writing, and communication
- Provide personalized guidance based on student needs

Qualifications:

- Current undergraduate student or above in the North America universities
- Familiarity with university academics and application systems
- Strong English proficiency, especially in writing and communication
- Excellent presentation and interpersonal skills
- Responsible, organized, and comfortable with scheduled sessions
- Passionate about mentoring and supporting students

What You' ll Gain:

- Teaching and mentoring experience
- Strong public speaking and presentation skills
- Cross-cultural communication and leadership development
- Valuable project experience for your résumé
- Opportunities to connect with students and educational communities

Job Type:

- Part-time
- Online
- Appointment-based and small-group presentation sessions
