

THE NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS 2 METER SIMPLEX NET

JOIN US EVERY FRIDAY NIGHT AT 8:00PM

146.580 MHZ

This is the largest of the local Simplex Nets with over 100 check ins from as many as 33 counties!
 The YouTube channel “tgivy” has a livestream of the weekly net.

Net control is typically based in Weatherford, west of Ft Worth. From my location, I’m often unable to hear Net Control. But when I hear Net Control ask for check ins from Bosque and McLennan Counties on the YouTube livestream, I throw out my call sign a couple of times. I will soon hear relays from those adjacent counties call my station back in to Net Control for my check in.

You can also monitor the check ins live on NetLogger and they have in active FaceBook group where they post the weekly results.

So give a listen at Friday at 8pm on 146.580 and see if you can get your call sign heard when Net Control asks for check ins from adjacent counties. It’s fast paced and fun!

Lake Whitney Amateur Radio Society

178 likes · 231 followers

This is a great group to our north in Bosque County. You can often catch Tim N5TCH chatting Simplex on 146.580 during morning coffee. If you hear him drop in and say hello and get to know some super friendly nearby hams.

The Lake Whitney Amateur Radio Society has a Weekly Repeater Net on Thursdays at 7pm on 146.620 Mhz Tone: 123.0 On the first Thursday of the month, a Simplex Net follows. See if you can make contact or get a relay in!

K5KV

BENSON J "BENNY" OWENS

PO BOX 8

STAR, TX

Benny is a super nice and knowledgeable amateur to our west with an awesome station. He’s a CW aficionado and one of the only keys that my radio decodes as if it’s machine generated Morse code he’s that good! His QRZ page is definitely worth a look. He runs a bi-annual Bug Day Contest.

He also runs a Weekly Simplex Net Thursdays Mornings 8am on 147.500
 With his powerful station and high towers, see if you can reach him or get a relay in and join the conversation!