

I can't recommend Piera highly enough. She's not just a skilled VA, but a fantastic partner. Her dedication, honesty, and positive energy are infectious! She helped me tremendously with research, project planning, and introductions to valuable contacts. Piera also kept me focused on priorities and next steps, which was exactly what I needed.

But what truly sets Piera apart is the amazing chemistry we have. We genuinely enjoy our conversations and brainstorming sessions, which makes working together not only productive but also fun and engaging. She genuinely cares about me and my business, appreciates my strengths, believes in me and motivates me when I need it most. This makes a huge difference and makes me look forward to our collaborations.
