

BLS Instructor Essentials Resources

AHA Instructor Network

Access to Instructor Network: <http://www.ahainstructornetwork.org>

Students can access this instructor network using the email address and password associated with the BLS Instructor Essentials online portion. The instructor network can be utilized for the following tasks:

- Access to all course materials for your training discipline. This includes skills evaluation sheets, answer sheets, course rosters, lesson plans, and student evaluations. Note: Written exams are not distributed by the AHA through the instructor network and must be obtained directly through BLS Training Centers or Allied.
- Management of all student eCards and personal data. eCards can be assigned by manual entry or from online course rosters.
- Online course management through the instructor network. This process allows for courses to be searchable by students through the American Heart Association. This step is not required to teach a course.
- Course updates and requirements by the American Heart Association.
- Educational updates and the American Heart Association newsletter.
- Program Administration Manual.
 - The PAM outlines the general policies and requirements for training centers, training sites, courses, and instructors. All instructors are responsible to adhering to the policies as outlined in this manual.
