

Terms & Conditions

- Please note that at times of high traffic on the website, our inventory levels may become incorrect, which occasionally may result in a double sale. In such an event we will do our very best to honour all sales, however, from time to time we may need to issue a full refund. We apologise in advance if this happens and thank you for your understanding.
- Items held in your shopping cart are not reserved and may still be purchased by other customers. A sale is not final until you have processed payment and received a confirmation of order.
- All paintings by Libby Dyer Art are originals. Each piece is photographed and presented to be as true to the original work as possible, but it is impossible to exactly match colours due to differences in screen resolution and quality. Please choose carefully.
- Light and humidity are a painting's worst enemies, so please consider both when deciding where to position artwork. Position it out of direct light, taking special care not to hang it opposite any windows. Other spots to avoid include over a fireplace, and near any bathroom or kitchen sink or stove. Keep your paintings clean by regularly dusting them gently with a dry cloth and ensure that any hooks used for hanging are firmly secured to a wall stud. All artwork has been sealed with an UV Spray and/or varnish.
- Libby Dyer Art reserves the right to update the terms and conditions set out herein without notice.
