

Unveil the Invisible: Multi spectral imaging workshop - British Library, London

Dtek and Phase One invite AHFAP members to join them for a workshop on multispectral imaging, to be held at The British Library, 96 Euston Road. London. NW1 2DB.

The workshop will cover multi-band and narrow band multi spectral imaging. We will run one workshop per day from October 10th to October 12th.

Numbers per session will be strictly limited to allow all attendees to get the most from the workshop.

To apply for a place, please email. There is no charge for the workshop.

Please note that lunch will not be provided – attendees are invited to either bring a packed lunch or purchase lunch in the Library's canteen.

Additional information will be sent out to attendees once they've booked regarding visitors passes and where to meet on the workshop days:
